Roumania Prepared to Negotiate Peace With Soviet Russia

Moscow Reports Communication From Bucharest Suggesting Agreement; Fighting Resumed on Russo-Polish Front, Extending Lines Towards Armistice Boundary.

London, Oct. 16.—Roumania is prepared to negotiate peace with Soviet Russia, says a wireless dispatch from Moscow which reports that George Tchitcherine, the Bolshevik Foreign Minister, has received a communication to that effect from the Roumanian Premier. The Soviet Foreign Minister stated in his reply that the communications would make it easy to reach an agreement.

Commission in Warsaw.
Warsaw, Oct. 16.—(Associated Press)—The League of Nations Commission of Control, which has been in Vilna, where a Provisional Government was established after its recent seizure by troops under command of the insurgent General Zeligowski, arrived in Warsaw yesterday.

The Commission's visit is in an attempt to solve the problem caused by the seizure of Vilna from the Lithuanians.

Fighting Resumes.
Warsaw, Oct. 16.—The smashing of the Sixth Bolshevik division by the Poles in a resumption of fighting on the Russo-Polish line is reported in last night's official War Office statement.

The Poles are extending their lines toward the boundary set by the armistice which is shortly to become effective.

In the advance Russian regimental commanders have been taken prisoner by the Polish forces.

To Aid Wrangel.
Warsaw, Oct. 16.—The Russian forces of General Bakalovich, which have been fighting with the Poles, but will be obliged to leave Poland under the peace terms with the Moscow Government, will continue their warfare against the Bolsheviks, co-operating with General Wrangel's army.

M. Kwiatkowski has been sent to join General Wrangel as Polish representative.

The Warsaw Municipal Council unanimously decided amid enthusiasm to organize a relief commission for Vilna to show sympathy with the present regime in that city.

South Russian Front.
Sebastopol, Oct. 14.—(Associated Press)—Continued success along the South Russian front by General Wrangel's forces is reported here with the capture of Lonsk and many fields and machine guns.

The 3rd and 42nd Soviet divisions were routed in recent engagements. On the Dnieper front, four thousand prisoners, many cannon and armored tanks were taken, the Bolsheviks being repulsed.

Palaga Attacked.
Sebastopol, Oct. 16.—The Bolsheviks are hammering the lines of General Baron Wrangel about Orlikov, on the South Russian front. The Soviet forces are attacking Palaga, 47 miles east of Orlikov, incessantly.

Jews Killed.
London, Oct. 16.—(Jewish Telegraph Agency)—According to the Lithuanian legation here, thirty Jews have been killed, scores wounded and a number of Jewish stores robbed in Vilna since the occupation by General Zeligowski.

The reports to the legation say young men are being forced at the point of the bayonet to join General Zeligowski's ranks.

BOND MEN KEEN FOR B. C. ISSUES

Man, Who Paid Above Par For Last Issue, Says Credit Here Is of Best

Bond houses all along the coast are keen for more British Columbia Government bonds, as a result of the way investors have rushed for the last couple of issues.

G. A. Haskell, of the Carleton, Earl's Syndicate, Seattle and San Francisco, who came over here two weeks ago, says the last issue of $1,000,000 six per cent. British Columbia Government P. G. E. bonds by bidding 100.75 for them, returned to Victoria to-day on the hunt for more.

"We sold the whole $1,000,000 worth of the last lot in an hour," Mr. Haskell said to The Times to-day.

"British Columbia securities are now regarded favorably by investors from Seattle to San Francisco. They realize that the Hon. John Hart, your Minister of Finance, has put the Province back into a sound financial position. This Province as far as outsiders, who have money to invest can see it, is now in quite a different financial position from what it was in the last few years."

Mr. Haskell said that British Columbia bonds now have greater popularity with investors south of the line than even Ontario bonds.

Other bond men are here to-day trying to get more British Columbia bonds, although they now have the last issue of $1,000,000 six per cent. bonds, because they are in such demand from the public.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.
Vancouver, Oct. 16.—Alfred Trotter, formerly a resident of Welsh, Alta., died here this morning from a bullet wound in the head, believed by the police to have been self-inflicted.

TRANS-CANADA PLANE RETURNS TO MERRITT

Air Commander Tylee Left Nicola Valley Town at 9.39 a.m., But Put Back

Merritt, B.C., Oct. 16.—The trans-Canada plane, which left at 9.39 for Vancouver, returned here at 10.45 a.m.

Left Early.
Merritt, B.C., Oct. 16.—Air Commander A. R. Tylee and his companions in the D.H. 5-A plane left here at 9.39 o'clock this morning for Vancouver on the last leg of the trans-Canada flight.

NON-VOTERS WILL NOT LOSE FRANCHISE

Attorney-General Explains Regulations of Provincial Elections Act

The attention of the Hon. J. W. de B. Farris has been called to an editorial in The Nelson News suggesting that if a voter fails to exercise the franchise next Wednesday on the prohibition referendum, his name will be stricken from the provincial voters' lists and leave him without the privilege of voting at the forthcoming election.

Mr. Farris stated this is not the case, the specific provision in the statute applying only where a voter has failed to use the franchise at a election of a candidate for the Legislature, and then not before the court of revision, the date of which is set by statute.

When asked by The Times for a special opinion on the law, the Attorney-General said:

"The fact as to whether or not a voter marks a ballot on the liquor referendum on October 29 cannot affect his status on the Provincial Voters' List, and his failing to vote on that occasion cannot, from the point of view of the Provincial Elections Act, which is an election of a member to serve in the Legislative Assembly."

"Therefore, every person whose name now appears on the voters' list will be entitled to vote at any provincial election or by-election which may be held between this date and the next Court of Revision, which is fixed by statute for the third Monday in May, 1921."

Swiss Government to Build Wireless Station at Geneva

Berna, Oct. 16.—The Swiss Government has instructed the Swiss telegraph administration to make a contract with the British Company for establishing a wireless station at Geneva during the meeting of the League of Nations there in November.

The plant will be used to transmit messages for American and British newspapers.

BELGIAN MINERS DEMAND INCREASE

Brussels, Oct. 16.—Miners in the vicinity of Mons have joined those in the Charleroi field in demanding a wage increase of five francs a day, and have threatened to strike if their claims are not granted. This action was taken by the men despite the advice of leaders. Belgium as a result of this step by the Mons miners faces a general miners' strike on November 1.

JEWIS ORDERED TO LEAVE HUNGARY

Vienna, Oct. 16.—(Jewish Telegraph Agency)—The Hungarian Government has ordered 15,000 East European Jews to leave the country immediately, says a Budapest report.

ALASKA AEROPLANES FLY FROM WINONA TO GRAND RAPIDS

Winona, Minn., Oct. 16.—Four army planes on the return flight from Nome, Alaska, to Minnola, L.I., left to-day for Grand Rapids, Mich.

The squadron arrived in Winona Thursday from Fargo, N.D., but was detained here by bad weather.

DOMINION NOTES IN CIRCULATION TOTAL $303,067,376

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—Dominion notes in circulation now total $303,067,376. These are covered by gold to the extent of $95,295,901 and by deposits approved securities, to the extent of another $149,829,125.

New Foreign Policy Considered at Moscow

Riga, Oct. 16.—(Associated Press)—The eighth All-Russian Soviet Congress was to open in Moscow to-day with a report from Adolph Joffe, head of the Russian Soviet delegation which negotiated peace with the Poles in Riga.

Predictions have been made here that George Tchitcherine, Soviet Foreign Minister, would outline a new foreign policy less objectionable to Western Europe than the present Soviet policy.

There are many rumors of a possible change in the Soviet Government through the admission of non-Bolsheviks to high positions to give the Government a condition form and facilitate recognition by the foreign powers and speed up resumption of trade relations.

New York Hotels Promise Revision of Restaurant Prices

New York, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Five hotels in this city have promised to revise their restaurant price list to help reduce the cost of living, according to special Assistant Attorney-General Riley, head of the "tying squadron." Other hotels are expected to follow in this respect, he said.

Title of Champion Waffle Eater Goes to American Marine

New York, Oct. 16.—The title of champion waffle eater of the world to-day was claimed by Private Paul Francis Jones of the Marine Corps, after eating twenty-six and one-half of the corrugated pastries in thirty minutes flat, in a contest with a representative of the army.

Irish Assassins Slay Victim In Cold Blood On Threshold of Home

Dublin, Oct. 16.—A number of armed men knocked at the home of Peter O'Carroll early to-day and when he opened the door the sound of shots was heard by his wife. She found O'Carroll's body, with bullets in the head and a paper on which were the words: "A traitor to Ireland, shot by the I. R. A."

The O'Carroll home had previously been raided frequently by the military, searching for two sons of the family.

In another shooting affray several persons were wounded. A number of other persons were taken to hospitals as a result of clashes.

Rioting At Belfast.
Belfast, Ireland, Oct. 16.—Rioting was renewed to-day in the notorious Marrowbone district. The Sinn Feiners used revolvers while the Unionists replied with stones. The number of casualties has not been announced, but it was learned that eight persons wounded by bullets had been admitted to hospitals, including a four-year-old boy dangerously wounded.

Three policemen were injured with stones.

Finances of Humboldt Will Be Investigated

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The Globe this morning published the following:

"Upon petition of the bondholders, the Local Government Board of Saskatchewan will hold a public inquiry at Humboldt, Sask., on October 28, as to the financial condition of the town. The bondholders, who are scattered through different parts of Canada and the United States recently held a meeting in Toronto and decided to send representatives to the inquiry. The petition of the bondholders states that the town has failed to retire its debentures, or debenture coupons, which become due and having been presented for payment, had failed to make payment of outstanding amounts for capital expenditure. A statement on the town's financial condition of December 31 last shows debentures outstanding of $442,555, and debentures interest unpaid $52,597. In addition there were bills payable to the bank amounting to $50,168. As against these immediate liabilities of slightly over $100,000, the town had available in cash on hand and in the bank $28,593."

SOLVES PROBLEM OF WORLD UNREST AT LONDONDERRY

Carlisle Road Is Scene of Another Hot Fusillade

London, Oct. 16.—Scenes of wild disorder occurred in this city last night, there being a reign of terror which virtually eclipsed that which recently preceded curfew hour along Carlisle Road. This thoroughfare was again the theatre of fighting, the trouble beginning when a band of youths suddenly appeared and began firing pistols. They maintained a running fire the whole length of the road and rival groups returned the shots. A hot fusillade was maintained for some time, and pedestrians fled in terror. Soldiers were rushed to that section of the city and cleared the street. There have been no reports as to casualties inflicted during the fighting.

ATTITUDE OF ROMAN CHURCH TOWARDS HUNGER STRIKERS

London, Oct. 16.—A person closely connected with Lord Mayor Macswiney stated that Macswiney's family had received word through a churchman who recently had a forty-minute audience with Pope Benedict, twenty minutes of which were devoted to a discussion of the hunger strikers, that the Pontiff does not regard the Irish hunger strikers as committing suicide, taking the attitude that the motive alone determines whether such self-destruction is justifiable.

AIR MAIL PILOT KILLED WHEN PLANE CRASHED TO EARTH

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 16.—Bryan McMullen, of Dallas, Texas, air mail pilot of the Chicago-Omaha service, was killed when his plane fell to-day near Batavia, Ill., according to information received here from the superintendent of the Air Mail Service at Chicago.

WINNIPEG TRIBUNE ABSORBS TELEGRAM

Winnipeg, Oct. 16.—The Winnipeg Telegram, a newspaper published here for the last twenty-seven years, has been taken over by The Winnipeg Tribune, and The Telegram's last issue is that of to-day's date, its mailing list, plant and equipment is taken over by The Tribune.

SEVERE SENTENCE.
Fort William, Ont., Oct. 16.—Fines amounting to $1,700 and a six-months' jail sentence for keeping a disorderly house was imposed in the local police court to-day as the result of a visit to this city of two alleged liquor peddlers. The detectives are said to have secured introductions into Fort William's night life circles, after which, in police court to-day, they gave evidence against a number of men and women.

JAPAN TO ESTABLISH LEGATION AT RIGA

Riga, Oct. 16.—Japan will establish a legation here in the near future the Latvian Government having given formal assent to this step.

THEATRES HIT BY WAVE OF ECONOMY

Theatrical Slump Sets In; New York Producers' Losses Heavy

New York, Oct. 16.—The economy wave that has started prices on the downward trend in many industries in the United States now has struck the theatre, and the "S. R. O." sign a fixture in most theatres since the armistice—has been relegated to the heap of unused "props" along with the scenery and stage effects of a growing list of failures, theatrical producers said to-day.

"The end of the unprecedented boom in the theatre appears to have set in," said Sam Harris, president of the Producing Managers' Association. Of forty-four attractions now playing in the first-class theatres here, sixteen, it was learned to-day, have been compelled to resort to cut-rate ticket agencies in an effort to dispose of seats.

An official of the Actors' Union, estimated that three thousand actors, or about sixty per cent. of the city's entire retinue of actors, were "at liberty" and one producer estimated the producers' losses in recent weeks at $1,200,000.

Closer spending on the part of the public together with increased railroad rates which make transportation of road companies more expensive were given as the principal causes of theatrical slumps.

Chinese Government Refutes Rumors of Reactionary Movement

Peking, Oct. 16.—Official request has been made by the Chinese Government to the Associated Press to refute recent rumors originating in Shanghai that the government had been overthrown.

"There is no truth whatever," said the Government statement, "in reports of a reactionary movement in North China as far as the authorities know, no plot of any kind exists, and the situation is without change politically, beyond the fact that peace prospects have improved recently."

American People Urged to Repudiate League of Nations

New York, Oct. 16.—Repudiation of the League of Nations by the American people was urged in a resolution adopted by the National Council of the Friends of Irish Freedom, made public to-day.

The resolution declared the League is "an attempt to undermine and eventually destroy the sovereignty of the United States and make it subordinate to a super-government controlled by the imperialistic powers of Europe and Asia, in whose councils England would have a controlling voice and influence."

The resolution declared "the time has come for crying the resources of the English enemy and that no better weapon could be used on this side of the Atlantic than ceasing a trade with the enemy and purchasing American commodities instead."

Every Irish organization in America was urged to "give its best attention to this subject."

Lancashire Cotton Operatives Sail From England For Quebec

London, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Eighty Lancashire cotton operatives left Liverpool yesterday for factories near Quebec. Several are discharged soldiers.

Refiners Interviewed Members of Cabinet

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Statements current that the sugar refiners saw certain members of the Cabinet in the absence of the Prime Minister and induced them to refer the sugar situation to the Board of Commerce are authoritatively described as "pure invention." What happened, it is stated, was this: the sugar refiners interviewed members of the Government. The Prime Minister was present throughout the interview, which was terminated when Mr. Meighen left to take a train. Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, did remain behind for a few moments, but there was no further discussion with the refiners, who, in fact, left when the interview terminated.

"There was no question of the Government referring the sugar question to the Board of Commerce," it was stated to-day. "The refiners made certain representations of which consideration was promised, but the Government was not in any way responsible and no members of the Government acting in the absence of the Prime Minister, were responsible for the reference to the Board of Commerce. In going before the Board, the refiners acted entirely on their own initiative."

Great Britain Is Now On Brink of Industrial Chaos

Great Strike of Coal Miners Becomes Effective To-day; Some Plants Already Idle; Triple Alliance Yet to Disclose Its Hand; Welsh Miners Quit Without Disturbance.

London, Oct. 16.—The Welsh coal miners quit work this afternoon without engaging in any demonstrations. Reports indicated no incidents accompanied the departure of the men from the mines.

London, Oct. 16.—Preparations for the great industrial struggle precipitated by the decision of the British coal miners to cease work went grimly forward to-day. The machinery established by the Government to cope with the crisis was working smoothly at full speed. The miners, for their part, were equally active. Some of them, notably in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire, already had ceased work at the end of their shifts.

Meanwhile the public was waiting anxiously, even fearfully, for the real beginning of the battle whose outcome none could foresee, since the action of the miners hits at the vitals of the country.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE ASSAILS GOVERNMENT

W. G. Charlton Replies to Premier Meighen in East Elgin Riding

Stodderville, Ont., Oct. 15.—Declaring that he was chosen at a convention by S. S. McDiarmid, the present United Farmers of Ontario candidate, and that since that time Mr. McDiarmid has been "calculated and manipulated" to assist the Conservative party in keeping together the relics of the 1917 election, adding that the Premier had mis-stated everything in his address at Stodderville on last Tuesday, W. G. Charlton, the Liberal candidate in the East Elgin election, spent some time last night in a lengthy address of reply to that of Premier Meighen.

"I count it one of the most esteemed privileges to stand before the electors of East Elgin, and more so, as I am asked to reply to the Premier's address. It is the more prized because of the gallant and unselfish support you gave me in 1917," declared Mr. Charlton in opening his remarks. In the 1917 campaign, he said, every vestige of fair dealing was absent from the Government of Canada.

"It is perhaps a presumption on the part of any private citizen to offer criticism of a speech made by the chief statesman of the country, but it is the privilege of any who may feel themselves qualified to do so."

"Personally, I do not feel any backwardness in undertaking the task. It is not a difficult one. The wisdom of Mr. Meighen was manifested in what he avoided saying, rather than what he did say. The large gathering was disappointed because he did not explain the right of his Government to continue in office; the burden of the national debt and how it was proposed to dispose of it; the orgy of corrupt spending, which added enormously to that debt; the unfairness and the inefficiency of their luxury taxes; the increased indemnities to members of Parliament and Cabinet Ministers, which adds a half-million dollars to our annual cost of Government; and the decreasing Victory Bond value by which bond speculators are securing these bonds above below value in order to clean up when the price rises."

INCREASED PROFITS.
Toronto, Oct. 16.—An increase of $83,325 in the net profits of the Cook-shutt Plow Company, Brantford, Ont., is shown in the annual statement made public here yesterday.

PROTECTION URGED FOR THE CONSUMER

Toronto Is Sending Delegation to Wait on the Government

Toronto, Oct. 16.—A resolution on the sugar question was passed yesterday afternoon by the Consumers' League of Toronto, of which A. M. Huestis is president, and two members of the organization were delegated to wait on the Government at Ottawa to urge the consideration of the interests of the consumer as paramount to those of the refiners. The resolution viewed with dismay the action of the Board of Commerce with regard to the price-fixing of sugar and the exclusion of the imports of sugar, and declared that the children of the present day were suffering from malnutrition, due to the high price of food essentials.

MAGISTRATES WERE FORCIBLY TAKEN

Removal From Car by Sinn Fein and Spirited Away

Dublin, Oct. 16.—Reports received from Mullingar, County Westmeath, say that Magistrate Moore and Magistrate Hyde, while enroute to the petty sessions at Castle Pollard, yesterday, were captured by Sinn Feiners. They were taken to an unknown destination, and the police and military, after a search have failed to discover their whereabouts.

Lacked Out.
Cork, Oct. 16.—Nearly 1,500 employees, virtually the entire staff of the new Ford automobile tractor plant here, are reported to have found themselves, at least temporarily, out of work when they returned to the plant yesterday afternoon from a strike celebrated in all the Cork churches yesterday for the hunger strikers in prison.

Notices were posted at 10 o'clock forbidding the men to interrupt the work to attend church services, on pain of dismissal or having their wages docked. Nevertheless, a majority of the force left the works at 11.30 o'clock, and when they returned found the plant had been closed down. A prominent Sinn Feiner visited the plant and appealed on behalf of the men to the manager, Edward Grace. Mr. Grace is said to have declared that he was contemplating installing an entire new force of operators, but finally consented to take the present workers back next Monday.

COMB SAGE TEA IN

HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because it does not discolor the hair, but simply moistens your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

MAIL PLANE MAKES RECORD TRIP IN HEAVY S.E. GALE

Hubbard Brings Flying Boat From Lake Union to Outer Docks in 53 Minutes

Leaving his hangar at Lake Union, near Seattle at 10.33 this morning Eddie Hubbard arrived at the Outer Docks at 11.26, making the distance of 85 miles in 53 minutes. He flew the large B-1 Flying boat, which is powered by a 250 Liberty motor, and had a fair wind behind him all the way. The mail that Hubbard is to take was put off the Canadian-Australian liner Tahiti, which docked here at 12.15 p.m.

It consisted of some eighteen bags of mail matter aggregating close on 500 pounds. The Tahiti received a wireless from the Seattle postal authorities to get that mail into special bags; which was done. In all the mail for U. S. points, totalled 90 bags, but Hubbard is only obliged to take the six hundred pounds.

His Passengers.
With him on his second trip to this port in the United States mail service, came M. T. Barnes, of R. F. Rithet & Co., and H. B. Davenport, of Rodwell & Co., Blue Funnel-line agents. The latter is now with the Seattle office of that firm, and made the trip back to visit his colleagues in this city, where he had been agent for the Blue Funnel line for some time.

Mr. Barnes returned after having flown over with the mail machine yesterday, making the voyage over in a seaplane, and returning to-day in a flying boat. He stated that he was not a little disappointed with the uneventful trip, which was made so steadily that it almost seemed prosaic. Hubbard had some difficulty in trying up today, as he attempted to anchor off the Outer Wharf, after alighting in the mouth of the harbor, found that impracticable and taxied around to the eastern and sheltered side of the Brackman-Ker wharf, where his machine rode at anchor.

Hubbard had only a light wind with him, and was in some danger of drifting on to the rocks, until a large anchor was secured for him by Mr. Barnes.

Wind Favorable.
The actual flight was made in 53 minutes, with a following wind, from the southeast quarter. Hubbard hugged the coast on the American side until he reached Port Angeles, and then came across the Straits for the harbor here. The difficulty of effecting an anchorage delayed his arrival some time.

J. A. Rithet, who met Hubbard yesterday, stated that his firm would commence building a float at once for the use of the United States mail plane. This is to be a station on the eastern side of the Brackman-Ker wharf, and will ride low in the water. After the Tahiti docked, some 114 sacks of mail were put ashore, and Hubbard given his 500 pounds of the mail for United States points. After loading, the machine left later with its mails for Lake Union, Seattle.

The Return Yesterday.
On his outward journey yesterday, returning after delivering mail bags here to catch the Africa Maru, Hubbard was met with strong head winds and took one hour and twenty-five minutes for the return journey. Hubbard, speaking of the trip to-day, stated that he was able to pick up his steamer, seeing her entering the Quarantine Station at William Head. He stated that the strong southerly easterly gale had whipped the Straita into a foam, and that his vision of the water while crossing was confined to white foam and flying spray.

On his return journey this afternoon Hubbard will not take any passengers, as the 500 pounds of mail is all that the flying boat will accommodate in addition to its pilot. While President J. L. Beckwith, of the Board of Trade, in reply to a message sent yesterday, has received the following message from H. Hedges, President of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce:

J. L. Beckwith, President Victoria Board of Trade, Victoria, B.C.
The successful and speedy flight of the B-1 of Hubbard carrying the first sack of international airmail reminds us Seattle is only fifty-eight miles from your beautiful and progressive city. Let us hope this quickened communication service is but the start of still greater things along this line and that it will bring Seattle and Washington closer to Victoria and British Columbia.

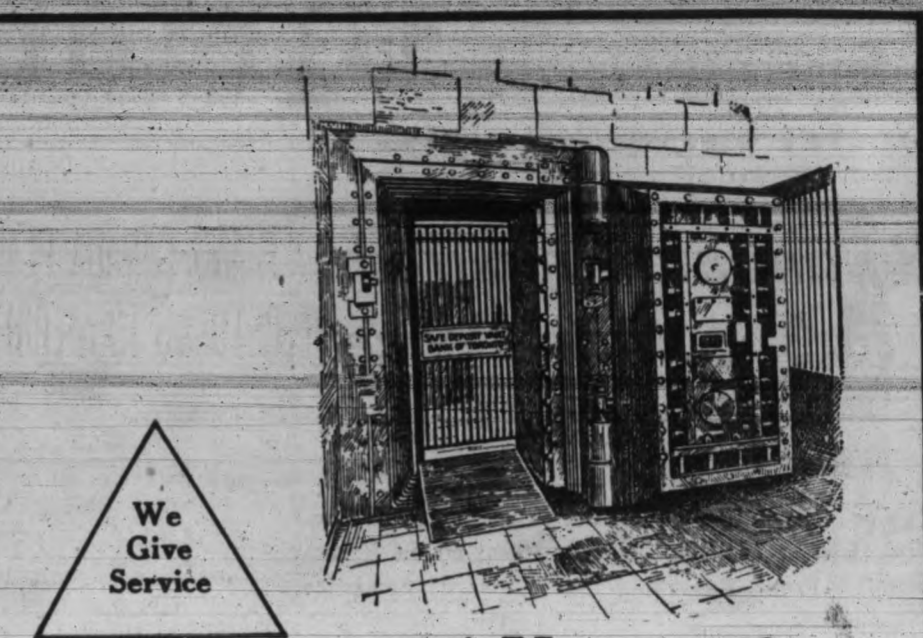

TO MARKET HOLLY FOR ROTARY TREE AT CHRISTMASTIDE

In previous years the Red Cross officials have collected donations of holly for sale in the Prairie cities, but this year they are not taking it, so the Rotary Club is taking up the collection to help the Christmas Tree Fund.

F. Bennett used to cut the holly for the Red Cross, and the services of a skilled gardener, who will cut it without damage to trees, have been secured for the purpose this year. The Christmas Tree Committee of the club anticipates that much money will be needed this year on account of prevailing conditions. Those willing to donate holly are asked to inform the club office, 4 Winch Building, Telephone 3293.

The chain of Rotary Club connections will be of help in marketing holly, and a local store is also contemplated.

65 Years of Banking Service

IN July 1855, the Bank of Toronto, with a paid-up capital of £27,435, opened its doors to the public for the first time.

To-day the Capital and Reserve Funds stand at $11,793,883 and assets at $109,285,118.

We have grown because our customers have grown, both in number and importance.

Our service has been a factor in their success.

Sound banking practice and efficiency have characterized the Bank of Toronto from the first. Accounts of small and moderate volume are assured to-day, as always, of sympathetic co-operation and service equally with the largest.

Realty Men Exercised Over Holding Up of English Settler

Real estate men here who are campaigning through newspaper and magazine advertising in England to sell real estate on Vancouver Island and bring out settlers from Britain, are exercised over the difficulties with which they are confronted. Plans are being made by real estate men and W. A. MacAdam, magazine editor, for taking up the case of N. J. Carroll, a Londoner, who decided to come to Vancouver Island and take up poultry and fruit farming. He went to British Columbia House, Regent Street, replied to the advertisements of three Victoria firms in a Victoria paper called The Islander on file there, and received prompt replies from these firms.

"I am an ex-soldier, having served my country for twenty-three years, and as such I am entitled to a free passage for myself and daughter, but I little thought there would be so many obstacles and such a mass of red tape to be surmounted," Mr. Carroll complained. "I have got a decent bit of capital, and it was my intention to buy a small farm, but I must reconsider this. Firstly, the B. C. representative sent me to the Canadian Land Settlement. I was interviewed by Col. Beaton, who informed me I was ineligible—being over 35 years of age, and referred me to the emigration authorities, who passed me on to the Overseas Settlement Association, where I filled up two forms of application; then to the Labor Exchange, where I handed in the forms."

"On Friday last the Canadian Emigration Agent informed me that nothing could be done for me this year, and in any case I could not be granted a free passage unless I had a home to go to on arrival. "Surely they do not expect one to purchase property without first looking at it."

"I also got another form of application, but it only asked 75 questions including: 'What is your religion?' Now, I do not object to answering of the questions, but I certainly think that some of them are out of place, and if Canada wants respectable citizens, she is not likely to get them by such methods."

"What on earth has a man's religion got to do with his qualifications for farming?"

"I have known several people tear up their application forms and abandon their idea of going to Canada. The British press recently commented on this question."

"If I was a 'fall bird' the Salvation Army would send me out to Canada and no questions asked; if you are a respectable citizen with a bit of capital the emigration authorities look upon you as an undesirable."

"The Overseas Settlement Association had a gift of one and a half million pounds for assistance of ex-servicemen, yet they seem strangled with red tape."

"Meanwhile, the Canadian authorities advertise $5,000 farm workers wanted in Canada."

COWICHAN LAKE NEWS.

Cowichan Lake, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Harry Hodgson, wife of the Riverside Hotel proprietor, and her little daughter Peggy, left to-day for England. Mrs. H. Hodgson entertained at her home on Wednesday afternoon. The time was pleasantly spent by playing progressive whist. Mrs. Schlegel was the winner of the first prize and Mrs. Castley got the consolation, after which a delicious tea was served. The C. P. R. bridge gang are busily engaged strengthening the Cowichan River bridge. The pile driver has been working there for several days. A most enjoyable time was spent when the men at Cottonwood entertained the Lake people at a dance this week. The launches, The Icona and The Only Way, were engaged to take up the guests. The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreens and colored leaves for the occasion. Messrs. Robinson and Schlegel supplied the dance music. A delicious supper was served, after which dancing was indulged in.

STREET CAR FARES.

To the Editor.—It seems evident that a one-cent fare increase in street railway transportation will reimburse the B. C. E. R. Co. for the reduced lighting rates and leave a margin for increased running expenses.

Every household benefits by a reduced light rate.

Every citizen who uses the street railway for transportation pays, in this way, for the reduced light rate.

Every citizen who has sufficient means to own an automobile and supplies his own transportation, receives the benefit of reduced light rates without paying for it.

Every citizen who is unable to afford a car pays not only for his own reduced light rates, but also for that of his richer neighbor.

This seems to be "class legislation." While I believe that the B. C. E. R. Co. is entitled to raise its fares, owing to prevailing conditions, if any relief can be afforded from the proceeds, it should go to those who suffer from the additional cost of transportation, especially if they are deprived of optional means of transportation at a lower cost.

It is surely the right of the electors of Victoria to have a voice in an agreement on matters of such vast importance to themselves, yet, in spite of the additional cost of transportation, especially if they are deprived of optional means of transportation at a lower cost.

LAMBETH AND LIQUOR.

To the Editor.—In the course of the controversy arising out of the coming plebiscite a rather remarkable claim has been made by two rival organizations. Each has pointed to the important deliberations known as the Lambeth Conference, which recently took place in England, and, strange to relate, each claims a virtual endorsement of its stand at the hands of the largest assembly of bishops in the history of Christendom.

Now, what did the Lambeth Conference actually say concerning liquor? Did it speak in such an indecisive manner that two opposing factions could take comfort therefrom? Did it speak in such a hole-and-corner manner that one organization could misinterpret the conference findings, and, to use a common metaphor, "get away with it?"

It did not, and paragraph 75 of the official report will speak for itself: "The Conference notes with deep interest the prohibition by the will of the people of the sale and manufacture of intoxicating drinks in the Republic of the United States of America, and of their sale in most of the provinces of Canada, and commends this action to the earnest and sympathetic attention of the Christian church throughout the world. The Conference urges members of the church in other countries—

"(1) To support such legislation as will lead to a speedy reduction in the use of intoxicants;

"(2) To recognize the duty of combating the evil of intemperance by personal example and willing self-sacrifice."

Obviously the foregoing does not support both prohibition and its alternative, and the reader can therefore judge what part paragraph 75 actually plays in the present storm of opinions raging in the press.

ALCOHOL AND DISEASE.

To the Editor.—There appears to be a prevalent opinion in certain quarters that alcohol is a preventer of epidemic diseases. This opinion has not received verification by the latest British inquiry. The advisory committee to the Central Control Board states that "The chronic poisoning (by liquor) lowers the defences of the body against microbial invasion consequently specific germs, such as those which cause pneumonia and tuberculosis, as well as the ordinary microbes of septic inflammation and blood poisoning, find a suitable soil. A slight general depressing influence, a chill or local injury which would have no harmful effect upon a healthy individual, even if micro-organisms were present, because the reaction of the living tissue would prevent a general infection, may be most dangerous to a chronic alcoholic."

There is no evidence for the popular belief which attributes to such doses (moderate and occasional) of alcohol a protective value in cases of exposures to infection.

Here is another body blow given to a popular fallacy. One by one scientific investigation is attacking these fanciful alcoholic structures which now we find were founded upon sand. The old battered worn out ruins will be undermined by the currents of public opinion, which will mark its high tide on October 20.

ERNEST A. HALL.

REGULATION VS. PROHIBITION.

To the Editor.—Will you kindly publish the following:

The principal need for Government control of liquor is to remove the evils that thrive under prohibition, by preventing its abuse by regulation, while permitting its use in moderation. By such a plan many will learn to overcome the natural inclination to possess things forbidden, and will be convinced that moderation in all things is virtue, and creates a high standard of moral rectitude.

Prohibitionists denounce liquor as a curse. But to state that all products of nature are good and that the harm to mankind comes through the improper use thereof.

Prohibitionists carry their law by propaganda that creates an emotional frenzy, and gives assurance that if enacted all evils of intemperance will disappear; but experience proves the contrary.

Prohibitionists prove the efficiency of their law by resorting to the use of statistics and police records that deal only with cases that are actually made public, but where there is one such case there are dozens upon which such records are silent. Consequently, such methods of imparting information are highly misleading.

Prohibition is an attempt to destroy a habit of men that has obtained for ages without supplying a substitute. The alternative will disappear such habits.

Prohibitionists say to men that are moderate in their wants and tastes, and who by the exercise of such do not abuse liquor, that they should abstain from it. Regulators say, "Thou shalt not." Regulators say, in moderation.

Prohibitionists, although actuated by religious motives, can give no warrant in Scripture, nor can any construction be placed on the moral law to justify their plan.

Prohibition discriminates against men by reason of residence and not of habits, permitting Chinamen to keep liquor in their shops, whilst forbidding it to Canadians in rooms, though perhaps their only place of abode.

Prohibitionists aim to prohibit importation for beverage purposes. Dominion Order in Council suspended it, and that there was any improvement in the situation by reason of such suspension remains to be demonstrated. This right was not exercised by private residents before the advent of prohibition, and the right will cease when the cause is removed. Likewise, the "bootlegger" and "moonshiner" being direct products of this law, not so, as their calling will become unprofitable if control is adopted, but who will become permanent fixtures in case prohibition is sustained.

D. J. SULLIVAN.
Anyox, B.C., Oct. 12, 1920.

PROHIBITION VS. GOVERNMENT SALE.

To the Editor.—In all the letters published in your columns on the above mentioned matter there is one point of supreme importance which, so far as I have read, has not received the attention it deserves. That is the relation of the forthcoming vote to absolute or "bone-dry" prohibition.

Many people who are out-and-out prohibitionists, but who, for the sake of the lax enforcement of the present act, are hesitating between voting for the maintenance of that act, or for something called "Government Control and Sale" even, although they do not know what Government Control and Sale may involve. They would not hesitate an instant to cast their ballots for a law that would prevent the manufacture and importation, as well as the sale, of alcohol for beverage purposes.

Now, Sir, let such people know that only by voting for the continuance of the present act can any progress toward that "bone-dry" state they desire be made.

Under the recent amendment of the Canada Temperance Act the Dominion Government is authorized to take a vote of the people of any Province, wherein a provincial prohibitory law is actually in force, on the question of the prohibition of the manufacture and importation of alcohol for beverage purposes, when so requested by the legislature of such province. Our legislature is pledged; should the present act be sustained on Oct. 20, to petition the Dominion Government to exercise that authority within this Province. But if the present act should be rejected at the poll, and a system of Government Sale introduced then get only will the legislature be absolved from its pledge, but the Dominion Government will have no power to consult the wishes of our people on the question of importation and manufacture. The adoption of Government Sale would be the rejection of our right to speak on that question.

Therefore the only course open to those who seek the absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic is to mark their ballots on Wednesday next in favor of the present act, press the authorities, provincial and municipal, for a more rigorous enforcement of its provisions, and prepare for the Dominion prohibitions on the prevention of manufacture in, and importation into, this province.

W. LESLIE CLAY.
St. Andrew's Church, Victoria, B. C., Oct. 15, 1920.

THE CHILDREN

To the Editor.—The paramount consideration of the State should be the "Children." Boys and girls, youths and maidens are the chief assets of the Province. What is good and best for the young life is good and best for the community; what is harmful and base for childhood is harmful and base for all.

Tested by this principle, how does Prohibition stand? Is it good for the child or is it evil? Will it harm or benefit the young life, the unspringing manhood and womanhood of our race? There is but one answer; there is but one reply. The lips that are never stained with wine are stronger, purer and better far, than those whose early lives have been surrounded with dissipated and unalloyed influences.

Let the influences of Prohibition have full sway for a generation—for twenty years—and the strongest advocate of "Liberty," so-called, will be silenced by the overwhelming testimony in favor of restriction.

In and around Victoria there are probably twenty thousand children and young people. Life in the making; life in the moulding; life in the shaping. What bent shall the State give it? Shall the Province again revert to a system which will give unbridled opportunity for free sale of a deadly and pernicious liquor, camouflaged though its sale may be by the consideration that the Province will control and get the profit obtained through its sale.

Should the wishes, convenience, appetite, or strong desire of liquor-habitues weigh against the tremendous import of freeing child-life from the snare and temptation of strong drink? It is but a step—in home, hotel, or public place of entertainment—from the glass of wine fevering the veins to the house of infamy; from the paths of rectitude to the broad highway of despair. Why try a perilous experiment? In the name of God, why? In the name of the 20,000 young life of our city, why? In the name of generations yet unborn, why?

There is no single factor in Tea more valuable than the absolute assurance of uniform good quality, for which BLUE RIBBON TEA is noted. We mean, of course, the BLUE RIBBON quality of never varying in flavor or strength from year to year. To this one fact, we attribute the great secret of that unshakable loyalty of those thousands of Canadian homes that have used BLUE RIBBON TEA for years. This everlasting dependability is a rare and uncommon quality—the greatest proof of value that any Tea can give. Isn't it natural that the Women who use BLUE RIBBON TEA, having attained a sense of complete confidence in the supreme quality, should be unwilling to run the risk of losing that satisfaction? All over Canada, thousands of Canadian Women serve BLUE RIBBON TEA without a moment's cause for worry. There is reason for this unwavering dependability. It is a well-known fact that soil and climatic conditions are important factors in determining the quality of Tea. Realizing this, after years of investigation and painstaking experiments, the wonderful hill-gardens where BLUE RIBBON TEA is grown, were selected. Every pound of BLUE RIBBON TEA is grown in these same gardens. Its supreme quality cannot vary. It is this simple fact alone that has caused so many thousands of Women to depend upon BLUE RIBBON TEA implicitly.

In this week's LITERARY DIGEST the first instalment of THE DIGEST'S poll of 600,000 voters in the six big doubtful states of New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and California is published. These votes have been polled from all classes of voters with entire impartiality, and the results of the poll are extremely interesting because the electoral votes of these six states total 140, or more than half of the 266 votes necessary for a choice by the electoral college.

The article accompanying the tabulation brings out many interesting sidelights on the political situation this year. This week's number of THE DIGEST will be read and studied with unusual interest by men and women of all political faiths.

THE STRIKE COMMENCES.

Although the Government and the miners have left the way open for the continuance of negotiations by which a complete dislocation of industry in Great Britain may be avoided, the mines in many of the coal mining districts already are closed and production has ceased. It had been expected by the general public that an eleventh hour development would have prevented the operation of the strike notices. Such, however, has not been the case and the country now finds itself face to face with a crisis second only in point of seriousness to that which confronted the nation in the early days of August more than six years ago.

What effect the miners' walk-out will have upon the other vital industries of the country and how soon that effect will manifest itself cannot be estimated at the moment. It is certain, however, that in the event of the strike extending beyond the middle of next week the bulk of the producing machinery of the nation will be at a standstill. The Government has issued its assurances that there is no immediate danger of a food shortage and such curtailment of railway services as may be necessary to conserve the existing coal supplies will be substituted by a motor lorry service similar to that adopted for the distribution of essential commodities during the railway strike last September. It may be assumed, therefore, that no serious results will attend a strike of two or three days.

But the length of the strike will be determined very largely by the attitude of the Triple Alliance and its success either with or without the practical assistance of the railwaymen and transport workers will depend upon the volume of public opinion which is placed behind the resources of the State. As far as can be gathered at this distance there is very little doubt about the attitude of the man in the street. He has been able to study the arguments advanced by the men and the frank treatment of the whole question by the Government should have convinced him that every effort has been made to discover a settlement. The stumbling block to peace is the demand for an increase of fifty cents per shift without conditions. The Government has offered to submit the question to an independent tribunal and abide by its decision. The men have voted against the proposal and have disregarded the advice of their leaders.

It now remains to be seen whether sober reflection during the week end and the influence of the miners' womenfolk—who have already demonstrated against a strike—will produce new ground upon which settlement proposals may be discussed. The Government, as the Prime Minister already has intimated to Mr. Smilie, is ready to resume negotiations the moment the men desire it; but it does not propose to retreat from the position it has taken. Hence, if a fight is inevitable nothing is to be gained by postponing it.

A GOOD IDEA.

New Westminster is to be congratulated upon the manner in which it is endeavoring to dispose of several parcels of property which have reverted to the municipality from its tax sales. It has authorized the chairman of the Finance Committee to make an examination of the Prairie realty market for the purpose of listing the properties concerned in the localities which appear to promise best results. The plan is an excellent one. It is obvious that the local field for investment of this character is extremely limited and little result may be expected unless some such procedure as that adopted by the Royal City is followed. Here, moreover, this is the time of year when the wealthy farmers of the Prairie Provinces are turning westward, and it is more than likely that Victoria would be able to do business if prompt action were taken along the lines described. In any case the plan appears to be worth consideration.

SOUTH VANCOUVER.

If Mr. Bowser is fortunate enough to be elected to the Legislature with a sufficient Conservative following to warrant his leadership of the next Government he intends to inquire into the status of the municipality of South Vancouver before he does anything else. At least this was the essence of a statement made by him at a meeting of the South Vancouver Ratepayers' Protective Association on Thursday last. In fact the leader of the Opposition even went further than that by promising that the "slur" which had been placed upon the district by the present Administration would be wiped out.

Mr. Bowser knows perfectly well that the municipality of South Vancouver is suffering from the effects of the financial spree in which it, in common with more than one municipality, indulged a few years ago. There is nothing particularly novel in its condition. It has had its fling and the Government is assisting it to pay its bills. As soon as it is in a position to look after its own affairs the "slur" will be removed and its civic status will be restored. In the meantime the rest of the Province will observe Mr. Bowser's estimate of British Columbia's most pressing demand of the next Government.

QUITE WRONG.

The Nelson Daily News has indulged itself in an editorial warning to its readers that the qualified elector who fails to record his or her vote upon the liquor plebiscite next Wednesday will cease to be eligible to mark his or her ballot in the event of a provincial election. The new Elections Act does nothing of the kind and our contemporary will discover by reading the provisions of the statute that removal from the list is not a penalty for failure to exercise the franchise upon a referendum. The law applies specifically in this connection only to the election of a candidate to the Legislature. Those who do not vote next Wednesday will still be eligible to vote at the forthcoming election.

NOT INSTRUCTED?

It is refreshing to observe that the action of the Board of Commerce in endeavoring to fix the price of sugar was a complete surprise to the Government and a veritable "bolt from the blue." But the entrance of such an emphatic denial may not succeed in conveying the intended impression to the general public. For instance, it would be reasonable to suppose that such swift admonition would be followed by equally swift resignation on the part of the commissioners. There is no indication so far that anything of the kind is likely to take place. It must not surprise the Government, therefore, if the average consumer regards the Board's action very much in the nature of a rehearsal stage-managed by itself.

NOTE AND COMMENT

While the sugar order of the Board of Commerce remains in cold storage one dollar will purchase nine pounds of sugar in Detroit.

In his message to the nation Mr. Lloyd George has told the people of Great Britain that the Government has done everything possible to avert the calamity threatened by the striking miners. He makes it clear that the men have rejected all offers and are now trying to gain their ends by force. In other words the Miners' Federation of Great Britain is about to be put on trial. It will force a decision as to whether the government of the country is to be relegated to a minority dictatorship, or whether the business of the people shall be administered by a Parliament elected by the majority. The Prime Minister says: "There can be no doubt as to the issue."

In her address to the members of the I.O.D.E. the other day Mrs. Pankhurst deplored what she styled the "growing fashion to deride and deery the Empire." Happily, however, the Empire will still be doing business in the good old way for a very long time after the present crop of calamity howlers has been garnered by the Grim Reaper.

Premier Meighen has expressed the opinion that the Dominion Government would be guilty of an unconstitutional act were it to interfere with the holding of a meeting in Ottawa of the Self-Determination League for Ireland. Nor is there any reason why the meeting should not take place. No harm will be done and one resolution more or less directed towards the settlement of the question will hurt nobody.

WHERE IT STARTED

SEALS
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The use of the seal on documents dates from the age when only a few people understood the art of writing, and hence some method of having exclusive signatures was necessary. At Common Law the seal had to be of wax, lead, or some other material, with a design or letters engraved upon it. A seal formerly meant no more than a signature, but after writing became common, the law attached a peculiar efficacy to sealed instruments.

WHY

Won't Stones Burn?

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

If we take a piece of wood and place it in a fire or even close to some substance which is quite hot the wood will burst into flame and burn until only the charred ashes remain. During the process of burning a chemical change takes place in the wood—a change which is apparent not only in the altered appearance of the wood but also in its weight and its subsequent reaction to fire. The ashes of the wood will not burn because the substances upon which the flame feeds have been burned out of them.

Much the same thing applies to stones, which are in themselves the product of great heat or burning during the early days of the formation of the globe. The silicon, which forms the basis of most of the rocks and stones, was liquefied by this great heat, and when combined with various kinds of earth and other substances to form what we now know as "stone."

But these stones are in reality, a kind of ash—the residue left after the application of great heat—and it is no more possible to burn them again than it would be to cause the ashes from the furnace to burst into flame.

Coal, which appears to be a variety of stone, has been formed from decayed vegetable matter pressed tightly between enormous weights caused by the shifting of the earth's surface, and therefore, never having been burned, may be easily ignited.

There was no indication at present of restriction or alteration of the advertised sailings. The lines say the Government has not yet notified them not to put in bunker coal on the side.

It is declared to be possible that trans-Atlantic passengers may be excluded from the steamships on their return trips to the United Kingdom in order to conserve space for carrying foodstuffs. The larger liners, however, are not well adapted to the carrying out of this idea as they are intended only for passenger service, and have little cargo space.

Message to Nation.
Premier Lloyd George to-day addressed a message to the nation with regard to the strike. He said the Government had done everything possible to avert the calamity, but that the miners, rejecting all offers, were now trying to gain their ends by force.

The nation, declared the Premier, would resist "such an attempt with all its strength, and there can be no doubt as to the issue."

The measure read as follows: "The nation is confronted with a coal strike. The Government has made every effort, consistent with its duty as trustee for the people, to avert this calamity. The proposals of the Government have been supported by many of the most responsible leaders of the Miners' Federation. They have been regarded by all sections of the people as fair and reasonable. The Government offered to submit the miners' claim for an increase in wages to an impartial tribunal and to abide by the result. This offer the miners refused. The Government offered to give the increase asked for if the miners would restore the present low production of coal to the figures of the early part of the present year."

"This, too, the miners refused, against the advice of their most experienced leaders. They are attempting now to gain their ends by force. The nation must and will resist such an attack with all its strength, and there can be no doubt as to the issue."

long stern battle to settle definitely the issue upon which coal miners have decided to walk out.

While there was an air of quiet confidence on the part of the people, there were apprehensions that a strike of the miners might bring about a critical situation in British industry generally. Large stocks of coal have been accumulated, and private customers have laid in supplies, but the public concerns have considered, at least, partial shutdowns in case the miners strike develops, and this movement may develop into one of the most serious phases of the strike.

Members of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Workers' Union will hold separate meetings on Monday to determine the attitude of these organizations, whether they will take action in the strike. It will be recalled that both gave approval to the demands of the miners last month, and it is feared they may decide to join in the strike movement. If this step should be taken by the organizations the situation would become increasingly serious and alarming.

Food Distribution.
Government plans for the distribution of food which were perfected during the railroad strike last year have been extended, and a comprehensive system of transport has been worked out for the entire country.

Parliament will convene on Tuesday, and hope is still entertained that this event may tend to bring about a solution of the trouble. Neither the Government nor the Miners' Federation has closed the door on further negotiations, and efforts will be made to reach an agreement which will continue even though the miners actually strike. Arrangements have been made for a sufficient number of miners to remain at their posts to prevent the mines from being flooded and keep properties in condition for immediate resumption of work should a settlement be reached at any time.

FINAL RALLIES FOR PLEBISCITE

Meeting To-morrow at Dominion Theatre; Two Up-Island Addresses

It is announced from the offices of the People's Prohibition Association that the local campaign will be brought to a close with two mass meetings.

The first of these will be on Sunday evening, at 8.45 o'clock, in the Dominion Theatre, when addresses will be delivered by Rev. A. G. Wells, C. M. G., of St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, and Rev. J. Richmond Craig, of Vancouver. The latter is well known as an eloquent and convincing speaker, while Mr. Wells will be able to speak as a returned soldier, having seen considerable service at the front.

The final meeting will be held in the Princess Theatre, Yates Street, on Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. The full list of speakers for this meeting has not yet been settled, but it is stated that Mrs. J. W. de B. Farria will be among the speakers. Her Nelson speech on prohibition has been greatly admired.

To-morrow Revs. William Stevenson and R. M. Thompson will be at Ladysmith, and Mrs. Spefford and H. A. Beckwith, President of the Local Branch at Duncan, at prohibition meetings.

Last night Mr. Ardern went through the house rents advertised by Victoria firms.

Mr. Hunt told The Times of the trouble in Toronto between landlords and tenants because of the way rents there have soared. He said there are now long lists of rent disputes to go before the rent tribunals.

Both men said that such low rents as they heard of here could not be expected to yield any return to investors. They expect to see an influx of people from the Prairies, which may give a sudden startling boost to house prices.

"I, myself, am coming back here this winter for a couple of weeks," said Mr. Ardern.

The speaker enlarged on the four divisions of his definition of wisdom, dealing with each in turn: the overbearing sense of superiority of the Anglo-Saxon race, commonly called patriotism, he stated, was one mark that could not be included in the character of a wise man, it being a certain attribute of Provinciality; freshness of mind, ability of the individual to absorb new ideas, with their proper application, and a wide sense of the other man's viewpoint were marks of open-mindedness, and therefore desirable, he continued; it takes brain, energy and resourcefulness to be a leader, not one in fifty thousand having these qualifications, stated the professor. Therefore it was a wise man that recognized a true leader and was content to follow him; sense of life might be characterized as "self" and when he could analyze that "self" and give it its relative importance or nonentity in the scheme of life—that man had one of the crowning marks of wisdom.

A Brighter Dawn.
Wisdom apart from knowledge, was the subject that engaged the attention of the professor, throughout his address, and the very wide difference between these two gave him room for much able comparison of ages and habits, to the ultimate conclusion that this century, although maybe approaching a "Dark Age" could nevertheless be viewed with some hope, as the future promised a more rosy state.

The lecture was attended by the College students in a body, and numbers from the High School. Dr. E. R. Paul presided, while the Rev. W. Leslie Clay D.D. moved a hearty vote of thanks to the professor for his able exposition of "Wisdom."

CITY COMPETITION
HITS REALTY MENDims Their Ray of Sunshine; Exchange Asks Council to Explain

Shortly after Fred Landsberg had declared that realty owners "were just beginning to see a ray of sunshine after a long night," members of the Victoria Real Estate Exchange last night realized that competition from the city with its tax sale offerings is dealing realty business here a serious blow.

Millions of dollars of property, which has come back on the city's hands, is being offered at upset prices which are knocking the bottom out of the selling value of privately held property. Mr. Landsberg said. One piece of property, assessed at $16,000 and paying $1,500 taxes a year, has a similar lot next to it that is being offered by the city for $4,000, a little more than the taxes due on it. Chances of the agent selling the $16,000 property under such conditions are mighty slim, Mr. Landsberg declared.

The Exchange decided to find out what are the powers of Ex-Alderman W. G. Cameron, who has been appointed to manage the selling by the city of tax-surrendered property. The City Council is to be asked how far it is going to extend its competition with the real estate men. Alderman Sargent and Mr. Cameron are to be asked to appear before the Exchange, and explain.

The Exchange went through Beaumont Boggs' new scale of fees for the business services of members. Before it is finally ratified, it will be referred to every member of the Exchange.

Alfred Carmichael, president, who presided, appointed W. E. McIntyre of the Royal Financial Corporation, Ltd., chairman of the new publicity committee.

MR. GRAINGER DINED

Members of Forest Branch Honor Chief Who is Leaving Provincial Service.

Chief Forester M. A. Grainger, who is leaving the Provincial service, was dined at the Dominion Hotel last night by members of the Forest Branch of the Department of Lands. The forester presented him a gold miniature of the badge of the Forest Branch.

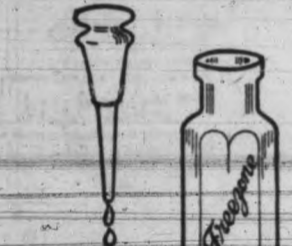

Capt. Christie, assistant chief forester, made the presentation. Other speakers were: J. E. Umbach, surveyor-general; Lumber Commissioner Turnbull; J. Gordon Smith, statistician; Major Atkinson, chief geographer; Major Cowan, assistant forester; P. Z. Caverhill, district forester, of Vancouver.

Mr. Grainger told of the early days of the Forest Branch when he was the sole member and did his work seated on a packing box with his typewriter on a barrel in the basement of the building. He commended the spirit of loyalty that is exhibited now among the members of the forest staff and said they were doing a great work.

"Describe the manners and customs of the people of India," wrote the geography teacher on the blackboard. A small boy on the front seat chewed the end of his lead pencil into a pulp, and then disposed of the subject by writing laboriously: "They haven't got no manners and they don't wear no customs."

The Victoria Amateur Swimming Club held the opening dance of the season last night at the Alexandra ballroom. The function was a most successful affair. Heaton's seven-piece orchestra was in attendance and rendered an excellent musical programme. Mrs. Plumb was convener of the dance, and was assisted by Mrs. Stott, Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Mathieson, Mrs. Jack McNeil, Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. Catterall, and Mr. Dunn, E. Squires, P. Johnson and P. Pitts. Among those dancing were: Mr. and Mrs. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Stott, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, Dr. and Mrs. Nye, Misses A. and E. Huddleston, Melville R. and K. Robertson, G. K. Wellburn, E. and M. Heathcote, M. Elythe, E. Curry, D. Long, N. Perry, Mrs. North, Mrs. Switzer, Mrs. Bentley, Mrs. Chaiton, Mrs. W. McAllister, Mrs. Catterall, Mrs. Plumb, Mrs. McCormick and Messrs. Burns, Allen, P. Johnson, C. Platt, J. Wellburn, J. Howden, E. Squires.

Complimentary to Miss Veronica Maas, whose marriage is to take place shortly, the Misses Sadie and Irene Craig entertained at a "ladies' show" last Monday night. The early part of the evening was spent playing five hundred, and after the refreshments had been served it was announced that Miss Maas had won the prize. She was then presented with a huge oval hat box covered with bluebirds and tied with a large pink bow which contained many dainty and useful gifts. The rooms were very prettily decorated with Virginia creeper and chrysanthemums. Only intimate friends of the bride-elect were present, including: Mrs. Maas, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Liddell, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Munn, Misses Kessie and Florence Sehl, Miss Lily Maas, Miss Edna Rendall, Miss Beatrice Landberg, Miss Lily Shaw, Miss Olive Munroe, Miss Mary Bell and Miss Agnes Andernach.

Mrs. J. J. Shallcross yesterday afternoon welcomed a large number of friends to tea at her residence, 855 Fowl Bay Road, the guests including: Mrs. Cuthbert Holmes, Mrs. Alexia Martin, Mrs. Hugh Patterson, Mrs. Despard Twigg, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. E. C. Thomas, Mrs. Chaytor, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Cornwall, Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Allister Forbes, Mrs. Tyrrell-Godman, Mrs. Rorger, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Kery, Mrs. Roger Montague, Mrs. Lytton, Mrs. H. J. Davis, Mrs. Andrew Sterling, Miss Nellie Dupont, Miss Gordon, Miss Bessie Jones, Miss B. M. Pemberton and Miss Little.

In honor of Mrs. Newsome, of Vancouver, Mrs. Arthur Burdick entertained a large gathering of friends at a card party yesterday at her home, 1631 Temperance Avenue. The decorations included chrysanthemums and roses, and with delicate lighting effects provided a most charming setting for the card tables. Among the guests were: Mrs. E. Prior, Mrs. Bower, Mrs. Newsome, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. Buehrt, Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. Heisterman, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Ebert, Miss Peoley, Mrs. Paget and Mrs. Strangman.

A delightful progressive five hundred party was held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Yale Street, last night. The Herbert Beaumont Boggs Chapter, I. O. D. E., arranged this function. The committee in charge were Mrs. Healey and Miss Leeman. Miss Dorman won the ladies' first prize and G. A. Richardson the gentlemen's. Robert Gray was the winner of the consolation prize. Throughout the evening there were seven tables in progress.

The Victoria Branch of the Commercial Travelers' organization held a dance last night at 124 Fort Street. The room was prettily decorated with the lodge colors, blue, white and gold. The music to the sixteen dances was supplied by Ozard's Orchestra. Supper was served after the first eight dances. Mr. Denholm, Mr. Dinmore, Mr. Darborough, Mr. Hiseock, and Mr. McConnan gave their assistance to make the evening a success.

Mr. and Mrs. "Greg" Purser will arrive to-morrow afternoon on a visit to their parents. Mr. Purser, who is well known in Victoria, having been on the staff of the Bank of British North America for some years, is now on the staff of the First National Bank, Portland, Ore. During their stay in Victoria they will reside with Mrs. Purser's parents at 671 Beacon Street.

Amongst the recent arrivals at Brentwood Hotel are: Miss Florence Drew, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brooks and family and maid, of Bellingham; Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Cooke, of Nanaimo.

Mrs. H. T. McKee, of Sidney; G. H. Forbes, of Parksville; Mrs. H. J. Harris, of Cobble Hill, and Miss M. T. Talyard, of dances, are staying at the Strathcona Hotel.

I. Macpherson, G. A. Tupper and Mrs. M. J. Tupper of Brandon, and John A. Smith, of Moose Jaw, are registered at the Strathcona Hotel.

A special Thanksgiving dinner for guests and visitors has been arranged at the Empress Hotel on Monday evening, followed by a dance.

Miss Eileen Gravely, who has been visiting with Miss Betty Gray here for several weeks, has returned to Vancouver.

Dr. Hermann Robinson has returned to the city from Banff, where he has been convalescing after his recent illness.

Miss E. Rumsby, of Edinburgh, and Miss G. Bartlett, of Edmonton, England, have arrived at the Strathcona Hotel.

H. C. Nicholas, editor of The Times, has left for the East to attend a director's meeting of the Canadian Press, Ltd.

John Lowden and family and John Wood, from Fife, Scotland, are among yesterday's arrivals at the Dominion Hotel.

Mrs. Emmans who with her husband and little daughter is a visitor here from Honolulu, was the hostess at a delightful tea at the Empress Hotel palm-court, on Tuesday afternoon. Twenty guests were entertained, and each place was marked with a Hawaiian floral "tela" containing the name of the guest and presented as souvenirs by the hostess. The guests included: Mrs. B. H. John, Mrs. Erskine, Mrs. McFarlane, Miss Hastings, Mrs. Hunter, Miss V. Walker, Miss Mass, Mrs. Harrison, Miss Sears, Mrs. J. The Women's Independent Political Association Selects Its Officers

The Women's Independent Political Association held their adjourned annual meeting last night. The following members were elected to office: Mrs. H. P. Hodges, president, re-elected. Mrs. Wilks, second vice. Mrs. Grace Johnston, secretary, re-elected.

Miss Dora Christopher, treasurer. Mrs. Gordon Grant was appointed convener of the committee for Education and Legislation and Mrs. John Fry convener of the committee for organization and finance, pending her acceptance of that office.

Sugar Situation.
An interesting discussion on the sugar situation took place and a committee was formed for the purpose of discovering the reasons why Victoria housewives must pay 21 cents a pound for sugar, while the retail price in Seattle is 11 cents.

Mrs. Dora Christopher, treasurer. Mrs. Gordon Grant was appointed convener of the committee for Education and Legislation and Mrs. John Fry convener of the committee for organization and finance, pending her acceptance of that office.

TO-DAY'S JEWELS

Fortunate indeed are the happy pair who have chosen this as a wedding day, since the two jewels which preside over mortal destiny on this date are kindly inclined toward lovers. The lapis lazuli—a talismanic gem—denotes faithful love. Its natal gem—the onyx—is a symbol of happy marriage.

Those who see the lapis lazuli to-day—especially the bride who makes it her "something blue"—in accordance with the old superstition, need never fear the waning of her husband's love; nor need she fear the treachery of her own heart. If a bit of onyx be included among the wedding gifts, a happy marriage is assured.

White and silver in combination will prove a fortunate choice for wear to-day. Happiness untroubled by any cloud is promised those who observe this superstition.

The city-of-the-valley is to-day's significant flower.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY TO BE A GAY ONE

Spooks, pumpkins, black cats, witches and all the awesome apparitions of Hallowe'en will be in evidence at the very delightful party which is to be given at the Alexandra ballroom on Friday, October 23, under the auspices of the Camosun Chapter, I. O. D. E.

There will be a "Cave of Destiny," and the old pumpkin head which holds an honored place in connection with the festival will distribute his seeds to bring joy to the young folks, while "Balls of Fate" guaranteed to determine the state of single or married bliss which awaits the fortune-seeker, will be among the attractions.

A "Wizard from the North" whose identity is veiled in mystery will also peer into the future for the curious.

The members of the Chapter have been working hard in preparation for what promises to be the outstanding Hallowe'en party of the year. The admission charge will be nominal and the children will be allowed to dance until nine o'clock after which the floor will be given over to the grown-ups. Fancy dress will be optional, but it is hoped that as many guests as possible will don fancy costumes for the occasion and so enhance the festive spirit.

Railway extensions are proposed Bolivia to connect La Paz with Sucre via Potosi, and Cochabamba with Santa Cruz, and in an easterly direction to Brazil.

DIOCESAN BOARD IN SESSION YESTERDAY

The Monthly Meeting Is Attended by Forty-five Members

The monthly meeting of the Columbia W. A. Board was held at St. Jude's yesterday, with an attendance of forty-five members. The president, Mrs. Belson, in the chair.

Interesting reports from diocesan officers were given during the morning. Mrs. Gilbert Hawkins, 546 Rithet Street, has been appointed to act for the present as "Extra Cent-a-Day" secretary, on account of the ill health of Mrs. Innes, the late E. C. A. D. secretary.

Rev. Mr. Knight, vicar of St. Jude's, gave a very interesting noonday address on "Silence," from St. Matthew, 16-23. Reports continued till 1 p. m., when an adjournment was made for luncheon, which was kindly provided by the ladies of St. Jude's parish.

The afternoon session commenced at 2 p. m., when the meeting was asked to remember in their prayers the annual meeting of the Dominion W. A. Board, being held in Winnipeg next week.

The president, on behalf of Parksville W. A. presented Mrs. Hitchcock with a Diocesan Life Member's Certificate, testifying to the love and esteem of that branch for their late president, Mrs. Hitchcock, who has recently moved to Victoria.

Preliminary arrangements for a quiet day, to be held on November 20, were made. The semi-annual meeting will be held in the Cathedral schoolroom on Friday, November 19. W. A. Branches are requested to bring or send their reports for the half year.

The Girls' Branches will hold their semi-annual meeting later in the same month. At 3 p. m. the president read a most instructive and interesting article, summarizing the missionary problems and recommendations of the Lambeth Conference by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The announcements included a tea for St. Mary's Juniors on October 23.

LADY ALDERSON
CHAPTER IN SESSION

The Lady Alderson Chapter, I. O. D. E., at the regular meeting yesterday at Mrs. Hasell's residence, decided to assist at the Christmas tree for soldiers' wives and orphans at Christmastide.

The Chapter welcomed back Mrs. H. G. Garrett, who had been absent during the departure of Mrs. Anderson for Hongkong.

The work undertaken at the Tea Rooms during the Fair week, in co-operation with the King's Daughters—has proved most satisfactory. The chapter will enable the Chapter to contribute their quota towards the National War Memorial, I. O. D. E. A vote of thanks was passed to all those ladies, friends of the Chapter, who kindly gave a voluntary service during the week.

A letter was received from Miss Kathleen Ellis, enclosing a contribution toward this effort and regretted being unable to assist through her absence.

Reports were received of the different undertakings of the Chapter during the Summer. The sum of $165.50 was netted by the garden party held at Mrs. F. W. Jones's residence, Edgely Hill, it was reported, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and to Miss Little, also to the ladies and gentlemen of Alexandra House for the charming programme rendered on that occasion.

A vote of thanks was also tendered to Mrs. Pierpont, the Echoes secretary.

NURSES OFFER SCHOLARSHIP FOR PUBLIC HEALTH

At the quarterly meeting of the Provincial Nurses' Association, held last night at New Westminster with seventy-five delegates present, at which Miss Jessie MacKenzie, Lady Superintendent of the Jubilee Hospital presided, it was decided that the Association would offer a scholarship of the value of $1,000 for a nurse taking a course at one of the Canadian Universities, either in Public Health or for teachers or supervisors in schools of nursing.

Classes in the subjects considered are being held at McGill and Toronto Universities, the University of British Columbia teaching Public Health only.

Details as to the system under which the scholarship will be awarded were not decided, but will be considered by the executive and reported at a later meeting.

Miss McLellan, of Vancouver, was appointed British Columbia representative on the Public Health section.

IS ACQUITTED OF KEEPING WHISKY

Judge Lampman Reverses Magistrate Jay's Conviction of Henry Emeret

Henry Emeret, convicted by Magistrate Jay of having a case and a large cask of whisky in his carpenter shop on lower Store Street, opposite the B. C. Electric car barns, has won in his appeal to the County Court, according to the judgment of Judge Lampman, handed down to-day.

"The house used to be occupied as an office building," says the Judge. "In it there are three rooms, one of which is used as a bedroom and one as a kitchen. The third room, which is the room into which the door from the street opens, is larger and in it the accused, who does repair work for the theatres, keeps his tools and benches.

"The prosecution contends that this room is a workshop, and that, therefore, the house is not a private dwelling house.

"Workshop is not defined in the Act. The dictionaries define it as a 'building or room where any work is carried on especially, a handicraft, a shop or building where a workman or mechanic or artificer or a number of them carry on their work, a place where any work or handicraft is carried on.'

"Many private houses have one room in which there is a carpenter's bench and in which the handyman of the family often does some work and in many houses there is some room which is used to a certain extent as an office. Do these houses come within the Act?

"I think that the Legislature intended by the word 'workshop' was some such place as defined by the Imperial Factory and Workshop Act; 'Any premises where manual labor is used for gain, or for making, repairing or adapting for sale any article.'

"The evidence for the prosecution was directed to show that this was the sort of shop that the accused had but I think it failed. The bench, it developed, was only a bench that accused keeps in his house and takes out to his work and hence it formed no more part of a workshop than would a saw or a hammer.

"The collection of liquor kept by the accused might be prejudicial to him on another charge, but cannot affect the question as to whether or not the character of his front room changes the whole status of his house."

VICTORIA SKATING CLUB.

Steps are being taken to organize the Victoria Skating Club. As the season progresses a full meeting will be held and regular officers appointed to all the posts, to be held until a subsequent general meeting authorizes their being carried on or elects new members to fill them. The members will be assessed and liable for their dues each season, instead of being collected to join, as has been the case in former years. Victoria is capable of supporting not only a proportionally large but as efficient a club of fancy and waits skaters as any city in Canada, in the opinion of old members, who will be the charter members of the organization when definitely established.

STOCK THE FAMILY MEDICINE CHEST

Season When Slight Ailments Reach Acute Stage Is Here

Every person should at this season take stock of their physical condition. If there is weakness in any part of the system attention should be given at once. The coming of Fall weather means—particularly on this coast—the possible development of minor ailments to a stage when they become acute or chronic or lead to a complicated condition which will give constant trouble all winter.

If you are feeling a touch, or have ever suffered from troubles such as Rheumatism, Asthma or Kidney troubles start taking care of yourself right away. These are ailments which are peculiarly susceptible to weather conditions, and no person liable to them can afford to put off treatment.

For these diseases Wonder Health Restorer is a herbal specific, which works wonders. It has been used by thousands afflicted with these troubles with the invariable rule of giving relief, often after other forms of treatment had failed. Wonder Health Restorer does its work solely through the marvelous restorative and healing power of herbs. It is a medicine which contains no alcohol or drugs, and may be taken with perfect safety. Purifying the blood, correcting organic action and toning up the systemic fluids it not only relieves the complaint, but also fortifies the system against other complaints which, if the system is weak, are liable to get a foothold. Ask your druggist about Wonder Health Restorer, he has a booklet which tells all about it, also what those who have used it say about the remedy. Possibly he may put you in touch with some person who is afflicted about as you are.

Wonder Health Restorer is sold in Victoria at Ivel's Pharmacy, Merrifield & Dack (all stores), Clearhue's Drug Store, Reiley's Drug Store and the Fernwood Pharmacy, in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store, and at most drug stores throughout B. C. If your druggist can't supply you send direct to The W. Y. McCarter-Burr Co., Ltd., 646-Hillside Avenue, Victoria. Phone 6950.

CONVENTION HERE EARLY IN NOVEMBER

Dr. H. F. Cope, American Educationist, Will Speak at Gathering

Dr. Henry F. Cope, who is announced to visit Victoria on November 3 and 4, as the principal speaker at a convention on Religious Education, is known throughout the American continent as the General Secretary of the Religious Education Association of America and the author of many standard books on Sunday School and other topics.

The preliminary programme for the convention has been drawn up by a local committee of the District Religious Education Council, and is arranged to prove of practical interest to parents, young people, Sunday school teachers and officers, and to all interested in the training of the young.

Public Sessions.

The opening session of the convention on Wednesday afternoon, November 3, will appear particularly to Sunday School workers of all denominations. It is hoped that Dr. Cope will give an address on "The Church as an Educator," which will be followed by an open discussion on Sunday School problems.

A young people's rally will be held on Wednesday evening, November 3, when addresses will be given by visiting speakers on such topics as "The Challenge for Service," "The Young People's Standard," and "The Cost of Character."

Parents' and Boys' Day.

On Thursday afternoon, November 4, it is proposed to hold a conference for mothers, with special reference to problems of religious education in the training of children in the home.

"The Boy in the Home" and "Home Religion" are the subjects announced for the closing session of the convention on Thursday evening, November 4, when it is hoped that the special speakers will be Dr. Cope and Mr. Taylor Statten, of Toronto.

Mr. C. R. McGillivray, M.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, is the convention secretary, and representatives of all the leading denominations are actively assisting in the promotion of the gathering in co-operation with the Provincial Religious Education Council of British Columbia. Sunday School workers and all interested in the subject of the convention are urged by the promotion committee to reserve the dates, November 3 and 4. The meeting place will be announced later.

On Thursday afternoon, November 4, it is proposed to hold a conference for mothers, with special reference to problems of religious education in the training of children in the home.

"The Boy in the Home" and "Home Religion" are the subjects announced for the closing session of the convention on Thursday evening, November 4, when it is hoped that the special speakers will be Dr. Cope and Mr. Taylor Statten, of Toronto.

Mr. C. R. McGillivray, M.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, is the convention secretary, and representatives of all the leading denominations are actively assisting in the promotion of the gathering in co-operation with the Provincial Religious Education Council of British Columbia. Sunday School workers and all interested in the subject of the convention are urged by the promotion committee to reserve the dates, November 3 and 4. The meeting place will be announced later.

MUST PAY BACK

Judge Rules That Colonel W. W. Foster Was Charged Too Much For Furniture Shipping.

Judge Lampman, of the County Court, to-day handed down judgment ordering Jeeves & Lamb to pay back to Col. W. W. Foster, the $59.55 they overcharged him for crating and shipping his furniture from Belmont Avenue to Vancouver. Evidence was that Mr. Jeeves consented to do the job for $70, but when the bill arrived in Vancouver it was for $129.55.

Memorial Day Proposed.—The convention of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada decided to ask the Government to set aside one special Sunday in June to be observed throughout the Dominion by all ex-service associations as "Memorial Day."

It is proposed that this day take the place of all other days observed by various units for decoration or parades in honor of their dead comrades.

TAHITI DOCKS AHEAD OF TIME

Made Port From Antipodes Before Schedule Time To-day

The Canadian Australasian liner Tahiti, Captain D. Todd, arrived at the Wharfedale Quay, Station, at 11:15 a.m. to-day, and tied up at the Outer Wharf shortly after noon. She caused some excitement in docking at the Outer Pier, while the customs, immigration and docking officials were become acute or chronic or lead to a complicated condition which will give constant trouble all winter.

If you are feeling a touch, or have ever suffered from troubles such as Rheumatism, Asthma or Kidney troubles start taking care of yourself right away. These are ailments which are peculiarly susceptible to weather conditions, and no person liable to them can afford to put off treatment.

For these diseases Wonder Health Restorer is a herbal specific, which works wonders. It has been used by thousands afflicted with these troubles with the invariable rule of giving relief, often after other forms of treatment had failed. Wonder Health Restorer does its work solely through the marvelous restorative and healing power of herbs. It is a medicine which contains no alcohol or drugs, and may be taken with perfect safety. Purifying the blood, correcting organic action and toning up the systemic fluids it not only relieves the complaint, but also fortifies the system against other complaints which, if the system is weak, are liable to get a foothold. Ask your druggist about Wonder Health Restorer, he has a booklet which tells all about it, also what those who have used it say about the remedy. Possibly he may put you in touch with some person who is afflicted about as you are.

Wonder Health Restorer is sold in Victoria at Ivel's Pharmacy, Merrifield & Dack (all stores), Clearhue's Drug Store, Reiley's Drug Store and the Fernwood Pharmacy, in Esquimalt at Lang's Drug Store, and at most drug stores throughout B. C. If your druggist can't supply you send direct to The W. Y. McCarter-Burr Co., Ltd., 646-Hillside Avenue, Victoria. Phone 6950.

The Tahiti carried some 80 saloon class passengers from the Antipodes, clearing from Sydney on September 20 and Auckland on September 25, while some 30 second cabin passengers made the voyage. In the steerage 50 passengers crossed, including several Filipinos.

Among the saloon passengers was Mr. Justice Heston, leading judge on the Arbitration Board in Australia, leaving the boat at Honolulu. Mrs. Russell, whose name is Leah Myers, a well-known mezzo-soprano in the Antipodes, is making the voyage on a journey to New York, where she is to enter Grand Opera. Miss Leah Leary, the first lady to fly in Australia, is also on the passenger list. She had the distinction of flying with W. E. Hart in Australia in 1911, when he piloted a machine built by himself, and powered with a Gnome engine. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. De Garis, Manager for the Mildura of the Fruit Company of Australia, also made the trip, on pleasure bent.

Mayor's Secretary Away.—Miss Kathleen O'Rourke, secretary to Mayor Port, left this afternoon on the Governor for San Francisco, as escort to her mother. Mrs. O'Rourke will be staying with relatives during her visit to California, but Miss O'Rourke expects to be again at her desk within a couple of weeks.

INTERNATIONAL RACE BY FISHING SCHOONERS

Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 15.—The fishing schooner Esperanto, crack boat of the fleet sailing out of this port a decade ago, was selected to-day to represent American fishermen in a challenge race with the Nova Scotian schooner Delawanna, queen of the Canadian fishing fleet.

Bound for Vancouver, she had the catch of fish a few days ago.

Slips and crew will be sent to have sailed out of Gloucester on fishing trips.

The Delawanna was chosen as the Canadian challenger after ten elimination races.

Y. M. C. A. YOUNG MEN TO ORGANIZE CLASS AT ONCE

Last Tuesday evening at the largest attended roll-call of the season, the Young Men's Division of the Y. M. C. A. decided to organize its class. Three members were appointed by the class to draw up a slate. J. Wenger, R. Melville and L. Fatt.

At a conference after the class the committee with the assistance of Mr. Maguire, the physical director, decided that it would be better to have two slates in place of one. By having two, the voter has the option of casting his ballot for either the first or the second party.

There will be two nominations for president, therefore the second choice being elected vice-president.

The voting will take place on Tuesday, October 13, during the gym class. In case some of the members are unable to attend Tuesday night class the voting will extend over to the Friday meeting.

It was also decided to appoint scrutineers, and two members will therefore count the ballots on Friday night. Every member of the class has a vote, and it is hoped that there will be a record attendance on both nights.

TARIFF COMMISSION AT FORT WILLIAM

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Owing to their train being delayed the morning session of the Tariff Commission was cancelled and the Commissioners attended the Canadian Club luncheon at noon, where Senator Robertson spoke on labor conditions in Canada. The postponed sitting of the Commission will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

THE BEST OF THE BEST WHEAT

ROYAL STANDARD FLOUR

VANCOUVER MILLING AND GRAIN CO. LIMITED

THE SYMBOL OF QUALITY

The Story of the "Standard"

THE story of the evolution of flour milling processes, from the primitive "grist-mill" to the perfected method by which Royal Standard Flour is made, is an interesting one. Wheat, from time immemorial, has been the staple food of man. To-day it is the most wholesome and attractive article of the daily diet, thanks to science, which has enabled us not only to analyze the true elements of nutriment in the wheat berry, but to unerringly select these and utilize them while discarding the others.

"makes lighter, whiter bread"

And it is the story of Royal Standard we would tell you in these announcements of ours. The method by which only the finest of the grain is used and by which the finest of the food elements are selected for Royal Standard will be told here. Watch for this story of "the best of the best wheat," and in the meantime use Royal Standard for your home baking with the assurance that it will make not only lighter and whiter but altogether more nutritious and delicious bread.

STATUS OF NAVAL PROFESSORS DEFINED

Order in Council Considers Canadian Training Establishments

The Order-in-Council defining the status of naval professors is as follows:

The status of the Civil Masters at the Royal Naval College of Canada has been under consideration, and a new constitution for this branch is considered desirable in order that whilst serving at the Naval College they should be amenable to Naval discipline, and the customs and regulations of the service. It is accordingly considered advisable that a corps of Naval Professors be instituted to form a distinct branch of the Naval Service, and in order to avoid the creation of comparative relations between Officers of other branches and themselves, that they should have purely scholastic titles, as, however, relative rank must exist for everyone in a disciplined service, it is advisable that while Naval Professors shall hold actual rank among themselves, they shall, as between their branch and other branches of the service, hold relative rank only." Therefore His Excellency the Deputy Governor in Council, on the recommendation of the Minister of the Naval Service, is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered as follows:

"Professors of the Royal College of Canada shall be designated 'Naval Professors' and shall hold relative rank as between themselves and Officers of other Branches as hereunder:

Naval Professors on entry—Lieutenant. After six years—Lieutenant Commander. After fourteen years—Commander. Pay of Naval Professors on entry shall be $2,400 per annum, with increments of $100 per annum for the first nine years of service, and thereafter with annual increments of $200 per annum to a maximum of $4,000 per annum, this remuneration to include all allowances whatsoever paid in the Naval Service of Canada, including medical and dental attendance.

"These regulations shall have effect from the 1st April, 1920, and the Naval Professors now serving at the Royal Naval College of Canada shall reckon for their seniority as Naval Professors at the Royal Naval College of Canada prior to that date."

These findings will have a direct bearing on the establishment of the Naval College at Esquimaux, which is the only one in the Dominion.

HEAVY STORM ON SOUTHERN COAST

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—A storm which originated in the North Pacific struck the coast of Oregon and Washington today, bringing high winds and flood-like rains, and was expected to bring heavy rains to California from the Oregon line to the Tehachapi Pass to-morrow, the United States weather bureau announced here today. Storm warnings were ordered out along the coastline of the Northwestern States.

Irritable Nerves Restored and Health Regained In a Simple Way

The man or woman who is run-down not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless, can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly-discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed. After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FERROZONE."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs, you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way. Ferrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This ensures a lot of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep—all the result of Ferrozone—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

MOTION TO SHARE C.N.R. CAR FERRY

In connection with the opening of the Ogden Point Ocean docks to commercial shipping it was learned today that proposals are on foot by the lumber interests to have a joint use of the Canadian National Railway ferry slip on the Indian Reserve, by the two railroads concerned, with the idea that up-land lumber shipments would be handled at one concentrated place, where adequate facilities could be provided for both the contracting parties, necessitating the installation of a "Y" between the E. and N. Railway and C. N. R. line at Colwood, where the two systems are but a few yards apart. The effect of this would be to cut out the C. P. R. slip at Esquimaux, it being stated that the latter meant a further haul for the lumber, with additional charges. The concrete basis of charges common to both is to be sought, and the officials of the two railroads are to be approached by the lumber men with a view to putting the project on an established footing.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief by Enriching the Blood.

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which will shortly leave the victim pain-racked and helpless. There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

row portion of Fort Street at Stanley Avenue, Magistrate Jay this morning fined W. S. Bogue $15 after he had admitted travelling at that point at a speed in excess of fifteen miles an hour.

Drove Car When Drunk.—James Slater admitted in the city police court this morning that he was drunk when in charge of his car on Yates Street last night. The constable making the arrest stated that, although Slater had been able to get the engine started, he was too drunk to manipulate the gear shift. A fine of $75 was imposed.

Army and Navy Veterans.—An enjoyable evening was spent in the club rooms of the Army and Navy Veterans where they held a smoker last night. Comrade Down presided in the chair. Songs were provided by Comrades Ben Burnell, Wilson, Rudd, Fanning, Pat O'Brien, Kelly, Askey, Webb, Lightfoot, Tait and Cresswell.
Comrades Harper, Kelly and L. M.
Gould gave speeches.

Protest Supra Regulation.—The retail section of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon passed a resolution of condemnation regarding the Board of Commerce regulation controlling the importation of sugar.
The resolution will be laid before the Council of the Board for endorsement at a special meeting called for Tuesday at 10.30 o'clock.

Boys' Boxing.—The regular winter boxing classes for school boys will be opened on Tuesday evening next at 7.30 o'clock in the old Victoria West. The officials of the V. I. A. A. will conduct the classes and issue an invitation to all school boys who want to learn how to punch and defend themselves to attend. In the past these classes have been very popular and largely attended. The classes will be held every Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

City Hall Holiday.—Anticipations generally entertained by members of the City Hall clerical staff, that the holiday would be in effect on Wednesday, when the Prohibition referendum vote will be taken, dwindled from hour to hour throughout yesterday, when Mayor Porter kept close silence as to his opinions on the matter. To-day it was rumored that Mayor Porter intended to proclaim a holiday some time on Tuesday.

Presentation Made.—Comrade P. G.
Hibbs, manager of the staff at the canteen of the Comrades of the Great War Club, was presented with an inscribed silver cigarette case bearing the badge of the Association, by President R. Macneil, the executive and members, last night. The cigarette case, suitably inscribed, bears on one side the badge of the Association with the following inscription on the reverse: "Presented to Comrade P. G.
Hibbs for valuable services by Comrades of the Great War, Victoria, B.C., Oct. 15, 1920." Comrade Hibbs left by last night's boat to take up an appointment with his old firm in England.

Employment Rules Adopted.—The suggestions of City Engineer Preston as to the employment regulations, which contractors tendering for the Johnson Street bridge will be required to observe, were yesterday afternoon endorsed by the Streets Committee of the City Council. One eight changes were made, this being the substitution of a three months residence prior to September 1 last, in place of Engineer Preston's suggestion of at least one year's residence.

A WOMAN WHO HELPS WOMEN

I know your need for sympathy and health.

And the treatment that gives me health and strength, new interest in life, I want to pass on to you, that you too, may enjoy the priceless boon of health.

I am a woman.

What I have found is far better than any man's experience gained on a hand.

Are you unhappy, and for your distress write and tell me how you feel and I will send you five days' FREE trial of a home treatment to meet your individual needs, together with references to women in Canada who have passed through your troubles and regained health, or you can secure this FREE treatment for your daughter, sister or mother.

MRS. M. SUMMERS,
Box 951 WINDSOR, ONT.

Esquimalt Parent-Teachers.—The meeting of the Esquimalt Parent-Teachers' Association has been postponed from yesterday to Friday, October 22 at 7.30 o'clock. The meeting will be held at the Lamson Street School, when the election of officers and other business matters will be looked after.

Prohibition in Esquimalt.—A meeting of the women of Esquimalt called by Mrs. MacAdam, was held yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom of the Esquimalt Methodist Church, being attended by over thirty women.
The Prohibition Act was the subject of an address by Mrs. A. E. Mitchell, and a resolution favoring the continuation of prohibition in British Columbia was passed with enthusiasm. At the conclusion of the address the ladies present enjoyed light refreshments.

G. W. V. A. Smoker To-night.—
The regular Saturday night smoker will take place to-night at the G. W.
V. A. Club Rooms, 712 Fort Street, at 8.15 o'clock. An excellent programme has been compiled by Comrade Jack Neary, and among the principal artists are: Tom Obee, the comedian; Ernie Impett, vaudeville star; Comrades Potter and Charman, Dave Rylands, clog dancer, and other good turns. The G. W. V. A. orchestra, under the able leadership of Comrade A. R. Ruddy, will be in attendance. All ex-service men are cordially invited.

Owner Charged, Driver Paid.—Because his car, trailer, loaded with milk cans, had been driven at too high a speed through what Magistrate Jay termed "The Dardanelles" of Fort Street, W. V. Fisher was fined $15 and $25.00 costs. The car was being driven at the time by a Chinaman employed by Fisher, and after putting the Chinaman in the witness box in an effort to dis-prove the testimony of motorcycle Constable R. Foster, Fisher told the driver that he would have to pay the fine, and with a surprised air the Chinaman did as Magistrate Jay expressed wonder as to the ability of an illiterate man to comply with the Motor Act sufficiently to be licensed, after the driver had shown his badge.

Grand Army of United Veterans.—
A general meeting of the Grand Army of United Veterans will be held on Monday next, October 18, in the new club quarters at 1208 Government Street. These quarters are not yet completely renovated, but they will be available for the meeting. They are situated above Messrs. Digson's Printing Office, opposite the Union Bank Building. The principal business of the meeting will be the appointment of a canteen manager and the final passing of the by-laws. A discussion of the recently adopted G. A. U. V. plan form will also be considered. A full attendance is requested.

Loyal Order of Moose.—The regular bi-monthly meeting of Victoria Lodge No. 1290, was held last evening in the L. O. O. F. Hall, Douglas Street, and over thirty candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Moosehood. Amongst others who now rank as Brothers of the Order are the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance; H. C. Hall, M. P., and C. Chobers. Brothers from Vancouver and Seattle took part in the proceedings and a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close after the serving of refreshments.
Bro. L. W. Lang, District Supervisor of the Northwest Division, addressed the meeting, and expressed a wish to see the lodge 1,000 strong within the next few months. The membership now being around the 200 mark.
Wednesday, October 27, is Moosehart Day celebration and the committee is now working to put on some spe-

To Mothers of Daughters I will explain a simple home treatment which speeds and effectually dispels headaches and lassitude in young women and restores them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember it costs you nothing to give my method of home treatment a complete ten days' trial, and if you wish to continue it only a few cents a week to do so, and it does not interfere with one's daily work. Write and ask for the free treatment to-day as you

Welsh Industrial Leaders Are Shown Over Victoria's Activities

"We are glad that the big strike has come in England," W. T. Farr, Lewis Lougher and T. H. Morley, Welsh ship owners, told members of the Board of Trade here last night.

The outbreak at last of the great miners' strike will relieve the suspense under which we have been laboring for some time," they said. "It will clear up the whole labor situation in England and settle many questions that need settling."

Industry is prepared for the strike and it will be best for everyone to have it all now, so that we can know the worst and get it over with.
James Beatty, vice-president, and other officials of the Board of Trade entertained the Welsh visitors. They came to Canada for the Chamber of Commerce congress in Toronto. While here they were shown through a number of local industries, the shipyards and over the drydock site at Esquimalt.

Veterans Want Irish
League Suppressed

Protest against activities in Canada of the Self-Determination for Ireland League was made to Ottawa today by the Dominion executive of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada in session here, following the third annual Dominion convention.

R. Chrystal Irving, Dominion secretary of the Veterans, was instructed vigorously to oppose the League
"being allowed to continue its insidious propaganda which, in the opinion of all loyal citizens, is directed against the British Empire."

LABOR SITUATION

The Victoria Office of the Employment Service reports for the week ending October 16 that there has been a considerable falling off of vacancies reported by employers.

This, of course, was expected owing to the usual slowing up of industries for the Fall and Winter months. There have only been 23 vacancies reported by employers, and of this number the Employment Service has succeeded in placing 29 applicants, while 39 casual placements were effected. The number of applicants registered for work during the week numbered 163.
The office reports that there still are vacancies for a large number of men for different parts of Eastern and Northern British Columbia, which they are unable to fill.

The women's branch of the Employment Office shows much the same number of placements, as for some weeks previously. There still remains the same great demand for household workers, mostly private house work. With the closing up of the Summer tourist traffic, the request for public housekeeping help has grown less.

There were 42 applications for work, all but four being along domestic lines. There were 27 vacancies registered, all in domestic work, 18 permanent and nine casual.

There was a considerable increase in the demand for casual workers, 26 casual days were given, with the same number of requests and vacancies.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death has taken place of Alice Robertson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Robertson, 1543 Eford St.
Her demise occurred yesterday morning and the funeral was held this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, from the Sands Funeral Chapel to Ross Bay Cemetery.

The Rev. F. H. Fatt conducted the services at the funeral of the late William Davidson yesterday, which took place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel.
The casket was covered with floral tributes, which were sent by his many friends. The following hymns were sung: "Abide with Me," and "O God
Our Head in Ages Past." Messrs.
Davidson, T. McCall, J. H. Frith, R.
Ritchie, C. E. Nichols and A. Cole acted as pallbearers at the funeral.

The funeral of the late Joseph Kaminski, who passed away at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Wednesday took place this morning, the cortege leaving the Sands Funeral Chapel at 8.59 o'clock and proceeding to St.
Andrew's Cathedral, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock by the Rev. J. L. Lefer.

Relatives and many friends were present at the service. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: R.
Schafer, H. Grant, S. A. Bantley, S.
Garry, A. Porter and H. Kerr. Interment was made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Rain or Shine Lacrosse Players Will Do Battle

Big Crown Expected to Witness Sensational Tussle Between New Westminster and Victoria on Monday Afternoon; Both Teams Are Confident of Winning World's Honors.

Rain or shine the Victoria and New Westminster lacrosse players will line-up at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon to do battle for the world's amateur honors and possession of the Mann Cup. The Royals are quite confident that the huge piece of silverware will be part of their baggage on the return trip. Equally confident are the local athletes whom the Victoria Lacrosse Club has called upon to don the togs, that the Mann Cup will continue to adorn the cabinet of famous trophies which the athletes of this city have filled.

The Royals will leave Vancouver on to-morrow night's boat and if the southerners continue they may be robbed of much of their vitality on the way across the Gulf. The management of the visitors has decided to bring a big string of players so that they may make the most use of the substitute rule which will allow new players to be ejected into the fray at any time. The Royals are determined to win the cup.

Wear Football Boots.

The recent rains have drenched the playing field and it is rather slippery. A keen wind blowing for a couple of days would dry off the surface considerably, but even that would not make it ideal for running shoes. As a result many of the players, especially the defense men, are figuring on turning out in their football boots so as to have a surer grip on the ground. These sled-hoppers might slow up the game a little but they would ensure a win being on his feet more of the time than on his back.

The season is late for lacrosse but the local club had no alternative than to accept the challenge which was issued by the Royals. Despite the somewhat uncertain footing there is no doubt that the game will be one of the hottest ever witnessed in this city. The world's honors are at stake and this will cause both teams to exert their greatest effort. The Royals are out to capture the Mann Cup at all costs and the champions are determined that Expect Big Crowd.

As this is the only sporting fixture for Monday afternoon it is expected that there will be at least 2,000 spectators in the park.

Not only will the Mann Cup be at stake but the Kilmarnock Cup, emblematic of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, will also be among the spoils collected by the winner. Last year for the first time the Victoria team captured the British Columbia Lacrosse Association trophy and defended the latter at Winnipeg in face of open competition from all over Canada. This year the Victoria club was forced to drop out of the Pacific Coast Amateur Lacrosse Association owing to the heavy transportation expenses. An effort was made by the mainland clubs to pry the cup away from Victoria but the local officials refused to hand it over until some team won it on their field. The New Westminster team captured the mainland championship and waited until two weeks ago to send a challenge at the capital. Although the Victoria team has not been together for two months the officials of the game are in good condition. Most of them being in the soccer leagues.

"We'll do our best to hold the cup," was President Christopher's only remark this morning.

Scotland and England Out For Soccer Honors

Scotland and England are to fight for supremacy in the football world at the Royal Athletic Park on Monday morning. The ball will be kicked off at 10:30 o'clock and for the next hour and a half the platoon-boaters from the other side of the pond will "muss" one another up to see whether the Thistle is to lord it over creation or the Rose is to perform the show.

This morning the personnel of the two teams was announced. The English team seems to look alright, but the Scottish lay-out presents a point which might be contested. Bob Whyte and Copas are slated as the backs for the followers of Bobbie Burns. These two legitimate Canadians never drew a breath of air in Scotland. The nearest Bob Whyte comes to being Scottish is that his father, James, was from that honored country. And one or two of the other

"Scotsmen would have to dig hard to work up a connection with Scotland. Good Game Just the Same. However, a very hot game will result from the meeting of these two teams. It is expected that a large crowd will gather at the park to watch the strenuous struggle. Each team is strongly backed. No one yet has found any trace of a "master mind" trying to get some one to throw the game. The teams which are to face off another are as follows:

England—Goal, Shrimpton; full backs, Shearman (captain), Owens and Wale; forwards, Sid Sheritt, Owens and Wale; forwards, Fred Kerley, Bloom, Southern, Swan and Clarkson.

Scotland—Goal, Leeming; full backs, Bob Whyte and Copas; half backs, Ross, Wright and J. Allen; forwards, Caskie, George Allen, Johnnie Peden, Brewster and Archie Muir.

Golf Club will throw open its beautiful course near Raleigh to both the out-of-town visitors and to the members of the Waverley Country Club.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 16.—Officially announcing the discovery of evidence of a wholesale bribery of players by a ring of gamblers, Chief Deputy District Attorney W. C. Doran yesterday smashed into the Pacific Coast Baseball League scandal with the disclosure that scores of games during the 1919 season were "thrown" for money.

Doran declared that he had found evidence that the Pacific Coast League in 1919 was honeycombed with graft and that an organized system was used to "buy" and "sell" games for the benefit of the gamblers.

A Great Clean-up.

The investigation of the baseball scandal, which led to the indictment of a ring of gamblers who bribed players on at least five Pacific Coast clubs in 1919, Doran said. "These sure-thing gamblers 'fixed' games and cleaned up thousands of dollars."

"Scores of the gamblers were located in Los Angeles and others in the various other cities in the league."

The county grand jury investigation of the baseball scandal, which was scheduled for yesterday, was postponed until Monday. Among the witnesses subpoenaed for the inquiry which was to have been held yesterday were "Babe" Borton, former major league pitcher, now with Detroit; Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club; Del Baker and Art Koehler, of the Portland club; and "Red" Oldham, formerly with the Portland club, now with Detroit.

Borton will be the first witness on Monday.

The Waverley team consists of the following players: Russell Smith, Dr. O. F. Willing, Forest Watson, R. L. Mackay, J. R. Straight, Captain Boston, Fawcett, A. S. Kerry and C. W. Cornell.

New Club Entries.

The entry of eight players from the Rainier Golf Club of Seattle will mark the debut of this newest Seattle organization into inter-club tournaments in Portland. The Rainier club boasts several young cracker who learned to swing a mallet at the principal links in Seattle. Two of the foremost of these former Jefferson Park luminaries, Lee Stell and Bon Stein, will be here wearing the colors of the older Seattle Club, the Seattle Golf Club.

On Sunday following the punch bowl there will be an inter-club competition between Waverley and the Seattle Golf Club for a squeeze on one of the numerous legs of the Burns trophy. Approximately twenty players will be entered on each side. During the two days the Portland Warning that any member of the Bays who competes with or against suspended players in rugby will sacrifice his standing as an amateur in the North Pacific Amateur Association. Oarsmen were conveyed to Arthur Cox, secretary of the J.B.A.A., in a letter received this morning from W. S. Day, secretary of the N.P.A.A.O. who has been endeavoring to protect their oarsmen and at a recent meeting decided to stand by the B.C.A.A.U. It is possible, however, that some of the Bays, who like rugby, will take a chance and play with some other team.

The letter received by Mr. Cox draws attention to Article 2 of the constitution which reads as follows:

"This Association defines an amateur to be one who does not compete for stakes, admissions money, entrance fee, or other pecuniary benefit who has never competed with or against a professional of any class for a prize; never engaged in athletics in any way as a means of livelihood; who has never been employed in any occupation involving the use of the oar or paddle, who receives no pecuniary benefit from his rowing connection, and whose membership of any rowing or athletic club was not brought about, or does not continue, because of any mutual agreement or understanding expressed or implied, whereby he becomes or continuing a member of such club would be of any pecuniary benefit to him who ever, whether directly or indirectly."

"If any of your members compete against rugby players who have been suspended for jeopardizing their standing and thereby are debarred from competing in any future regattas of this Association."

Vancouver Notified.

The Vancouver Rowing Club, which is also a member of the N.P.A.A.O., has been forwarded a copy of the letter. The Vancouver players are not affected as there are no oarsmen there, the suspended club players having been re-instated en bloc. The only time there would be a clash would be in the event of a Vancouver oarsman being selected for a representative team to play against suspended players who might appear on a Victoria representative team.

Shall Pros. Be Allowed to Play Amateur Soccer?

Important Question Which Must Be Decided at Special Meeting of B. C. P. F. A. to Be Held in Vancouver To-night; Decision Will Have Important Bearing on Amateur Situation.

Whether professional lacrosse players are to be allowed to play amateur soccer is the point which must be decided by the British Columbia Provincial Football Association at a special meeting which is to be held in Vancouver to-night. George Feeney and Hattie Stoddart, two New Westminster pro stick-handlers, have applied for permission to play amateur soccer. The Vancouver and District Football Association at a meeting early in the week considered the application but did not care to take further action than to "pass the buck" to the provincial body.

If the B. C. P. F. A. decides to allow the professionals to play amateur football it will mean a great change in the amateur situation in this province. In Victoria the football club has stood solidly behind the B. C. A. U. in its battle to enforce amateurism in this city, but if tonight's meeting grants Feeney and Stoddart permission to play the Victoria club will be able to play any pros they desire.

When the Vancouver body talked over the Feeney and Stoddart application it was felt that the D. F. A. and the A. A. U. of C. should settle the question of professionals and amateurs for all time. At present the Vancouver league is affiliated with the B. C. P. F. A., which is associated with the D. F. A., neither organization having any connection with the Amateur Athletic Union. It was pointed out that it would not be good policy for the league to jeopardize the amateur status of many amateur players by permitting the lacrosse professionals to play. Many of the footballers, participate in other branches of amateur sport, and should they incur the displeasure of the Amateur Union by playing against professionals, they would be ostracized. The delegates felt that it was a matter which should be dealt with by the provincial governing body, and after a prolonged discussion it was decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the B. C. P. F. A.

Victoria is the only branch of the B. C. P. F. A. which is affiliated with the B. C. A. U. of C. The up-and-coming players, amiable along without cards and the Mainland has not troubled the Amateur Union for registration.

If the B. C. P. F. A. decides to allow Feeney and Stoddart to play it simply means that the organization is in favor of professionals in one line of sport playing with amateurs in another. With football taking this stand it would not be long before the other branches of sport in the West fell in line. There is at present an agitation in this Victoria for a new order of things whereby each branch of sport shall govern itself.

Victoria will be represented at tonight's meeting by Archie Baker, secretary of the Victoria and District Football Association.

Always a Star.

Speaker played his first ball in the major league with the Red Sox in 1908. A star of the Cleveland team for the next seven seasons, including 1915. On April 12, 1916, he was sold to the Cleveland club for $25,000 and two players.

Pitchers Sam Jones and Infielder Fred Thomas, Cleveland baseball was at a low ebb when he joined the team and his presence so rejuvenated interest in the game in that city that it has been a success ever since. In his first year with the Indians Speaker hung up a batting mark of .386, leading the American League in hitting.

In only one year since he became a regular with the Red Sox in 1919 has he failed to bat .300 or better. The break came in 1917 when he batted .295.

Cleveland, Oct. 16.—Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland American world's ball champions, was yesterday presented with a large block of stock in the Dunn McCarthy Company, Chicago railroad contractors, by James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland Club and president of the contracting company, as a reward for Cleveland's victory.

"IT LOOKS LIKE A LEAN WINTER FOR RUBE"

Chicago, Oct. 16.—"It looks like a thin winter for Rube Marquard," his former wife, Blossom Seeley, vaudeville star, remarked yesterday, as she stepped from the witness stand in Judge Joseph Sabath's court just after she had been granted a divorce from the former big league baseball pitcher. "He lost his job last week, lost his wife to-day and now his earning power on the vaudeville stage is gone," said Blossom.

HOLIDAY GOLF

Arrangements have been completed to hold a competition at the Oak Bay links on Thanksgiving Day. It will take the form of mixed foursomes, 18-hole stroke play. Players will be allowed the choice of their partners and opponents. The handicap to be allowed will be half the combined handicap.

CROWE BEAT HINSON

A very interesting match was decided last evening at the Two Jacks billiard room when Crowe met Hinson in their tournament game. Crowe received 100 in 230 and Hinson 100, and so well did the handicap work out in this game that the winner, Crowe, only took the match by two points. Each wanted 20 to win when Crowe made an 18 break. His high break for the match was 19 and Hinson's best was 26. Another game decided was between Province (649) and Wilkerson (775), the former winning rather easily.

The clothing merchant found his clerk on the floor looking dazed and battered. "What's happened?" he enquired. "An Irishman came in for an overcoat, and I asked him if he wanted an Ulster," replied the vanquished one.

PRINCESS

"The Daughter of Mother Machree" is an Irish comedy drama in three acts, which is beautifully staged and full of the bright lines and witty sayings we always expect of an Irish play.

The cast is splendid and all the players are doing good work.

The plot is centered around Sally O'Brien, the daughter of mother Machree, who comes from New York to her English grandfather's home, and turns things upside down until she finally brings order out of chaos. There is many a good laugh and a few tears and some really big moments in this delightful play, and as the real Irish plays are scarce these days it would be wise for those who admire plays of this kind to avail themselves of this opportunity, there being no immediate prospect of another Irish play being produced this season.

The play chosen to follow "The Daughter of Mother Machree" is "The Powers That Be," a comedy drama which simply cannot be beaten. This offering will open on Wednesday, October 20. It has a punch in every line, and some of the most exciting situations, the theme being of a political nature and really most appropriate for election week. All the players are well cast, and will be seen to advantage.

ROYAL VICTORIA

An actor will cheerfully cut off his beard or shave his head, if it is needed in his role. They asked Lon Chaney, who has the part of "Blizzard" in "The Penalty," the picture of Gouverneur Morris' startling story, to get rid of his legs!

He did it. He is legless in the picture, stumbling around with the agility of a permanent cripple. Perfection of physical suffering involved helps him in effecting the demiplacal scowls that are necessary to his part, for he is as thorough-going a human fiend as can be found in fact or fiction. In order effectually to disguise his lower body, completely hiding his legs from the knees, it was necessary for him to have his legs strapped back, so that he walked on his knee pads. So severe was the strain that he could endure the torture of the vice-like harness not more than twelve minutes at a time. He had to get his legs out, restore circulation, and submit to more suffering time after time. It is a tribute to his wonderful ability that so difficult a role could be so convincingly carried out. "The Penalty" will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time tonight.

DOMINION

Elsie Ferguson plays three parts in "Lady Rose's Daughter," the picture in which she is appearing all week at the Dominion Theatre. The story is told in three episodes, the star playing the heroine in each case. In the main plot she is Julie Le Breton, who is a rather unwelcome companion of Lady Henry Delafield, a distant relative, at her country home. When the latter learns of Julie's affair with a Captain Warkworth, a man of loose reputation, she banishes Julie from the house. Julie goes to Warkworth's apartment, where Jacob Delafield, follows her. In hiding, she hears him denounce Warkworth, and later she flees the captain's apartment. For several days she wanders about, contemplating doing away with herself but the clouds soon lift and by a sudden twist of fate, she is made happy. Elsie Ferguson plays her triple role with understanding and good taste. Her supporting company include David Powell and Holmes E. Herbert. Hugh Ford directed the picture, which is a recent Paramount release. Harold Lloyd, who is also appearing in his new comedy, "High and Dizzy," is creating gales of laughter and proving as popular as ever.

PANTAGES

Is it easier for a man who is down and out and reform and make good in his home town or among strangers in another locality? Sheridan Rodbard, George Barr McCutcheon's hero of his novel, Sherry, which Edgar Lewis has photodramatized and which comes next Monday to Pantages Theatre, decided to face the music at home. He wanted to prove before the eyes of doubting Thomases that he had the strength of character and the will-power to come back.

Pat O'Malley plays the role of Sherry, who finds his path strewn with mystery and romance. Lillian Hall, Harry Spingler, Gertrude Norman, Richard Cummings and many others take part in the telling of this drama of love and adventure.

COLUMBIA

William Farnum has a thrilling story in "The Man Hunter," written especially for him by Frank Lloyd, his director. This is the big picture that will be shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day for the last time. Mr. Farnum runs up and down the entire scale of emotions in this de luxe production. He begins as a wealthy American in London, quickly drops to the position of a steerage passenger, and then becomes a longshoreman in New York. Finally he is a stowaway and is wrecked on a tropical island with an oil king's daughter and the one man in the world whom he hates—the man who had started him on his downward slide by selling him a huge block of stock which was supposed to be worthless. This man is killed in a terrific fight on the island. When Mr. Farnum and the girl return to New York, the former begins his upward climb, because he soon learns that the stock which was practically worthless when he bought it has become very valuable; in fact, he is a

VARIETY

"The Best of Luck," the Metro picturization of the celebrated Drury Lane melodrama, will be shown to-day at the Variety Theatre. It is a feature attraction of superlative merit. Done on a colossal scale, this swiftly-moving story is fairly packed with excitement, sustained action and spine-chilling thrills. Cecil Raleigh, master of melodramatic plays, Henry Hamilton and Arthur Collins were responsible for the stage version of "The Best of Luck." At Drury Lane it created a furore. "The Best of Luck" tells of a dashing heroine, Leslie Macleod, who follows the attempts of a villainous Spaniard, General Lanzana, to compromise her and cheat her out of a fortune which lies in the hold of a Spanish galleon sunk a century before. An all-star cast appears in "The Best of Luck," which was produced by Screen Classics, Inc. and supervised by Maxwell Karger. Kathryn Adams is beautiful and fascinating as the daring Leslie. Jack Holt gives a fine performance as the young Lord Glenayr. Lillie Leslie is the scheming Lady Westmore, who conspires with Lanzana, played by Fred Malatesta, to outwit the heroine.

If Thin, Nervous,
Run Down, Depressed,
This Will Help!

The wear and strain of life has tended in recent years to produce nervous debility in a large percentage of our population.

Thousands are affected with a feeling they can't exactly describe. They are always tired and droopy, lack ambition, have poor appetite, look pale and suffer from depressing headaches and insomnia.

This condition is full of peril. It is the stepping stone to invalidism, the beginning of a shattered constitution.

We advise everyone in this condition to take a good medicine at once and try to get well while yet there is time. Probably no better advice can be given than to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which have become famous in restoring the sick to good health. A general toning up of the system at once takes place. The whole body is vitalized by rich and purer blood. The appetite is increased, food is digested and naturally strength rapidly increases. Headaches go because the bowels are regulated and all wastes are carried off.

There is no experiment about using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, because they certainly restore the sick, as a trial will quickly prove. Just as good for the old as the young, and suitable to the needs of women and children. This grand family medicine should be in every home.

To Continue in Public Service—

The Navy League of Canada Needs $760,000

Since the money must come from the people, explanation is due to them of the need for it. The work of the Navy League is:

To Continue the Sea-Conscious Spirit in the People and in the Government.

To enlighten people upon the importance of the sea; so that Canadian products may be shipped, through Canadian ports, in Canadian ships, officered and manned by trained Canadians.

To Continue the Sea-Conscious Spirit in the Schools.

As a Merchant Navy is the first step to sea power in any nation, so is the seed-sowing of fundamental national ideals in the schools, the first step to national greatness.

To Continue Training 2,000 Canadian Lads for the Sea.

The continuous training of over two thousand Canadian lads, in the Boys' Naval Brigades of the Navy League of Canada, is to-day having an effect upon our maritime future.

Since May last, sixty of these lads have completed their training and passed into the Canadian Merchant Navy. Fifty more have gone to England to man the new ships of the re-organized Royal Canadian Navy.

Under the guidance of Experienced Sea Minds, it is being planned to give chosen lads from the Boys' Naval Brigades an ocean-going education second to none, so that Canada will have efficient master seamen.

To Continue to Relieve Distress of Canadian Merchant Sailors.

After this year the League expects to cease asking for funds for the relief of the Canadian dependents of Merchant Sailors who were killed on Active Service. With the trust funds now in hand, together with the sum set aside in the Budget, to be raised by public subscription, it should be possible to establish an endowment, the income from which will be sufficient to provide these dependents with a pension equal to that granted to the dependents of Naval men killed on Active Service.

As many of these dependents are young children, the endowment must continue for a number of years, until the children become self-supporting.

To Continue Upholding Every Sailors' Home, Institute and Sailors' Welfare Society in Canada.

The Navy League seeks to make life comfortable for our sailors when ashore. After all, Canada is their home; and the home, while they are here, of the sailors of other lands.

The Navy League endows, maintains or assists in maintaining every Sailors' Home, Institute and Welfare Society in Canada. And every dollar subscribed for the maintenance of these Homes and Institutes will be money well invested and redound to our national prosperity.

These objects can only be achieved through an organization representative of public responsibility and outside party politics.

The obligation is apparent, simple, easy! Borne in proportion, from coast to coast, the weight is felt, but not the strain. The public expect this work to continue and to be maintained by public subscription "until it yields the true glory."

DO YOU SUFFER WHEN YOUR CAR IS IN ANGUISH

Every Knock and Rattle Is Sign of Ill-Health and Speeding Dollars

LEARN ABOUT YOUR CAR

To the man who is interested in the wellbeing of his car and who likes to look after its upkeep and good operation, this article will appeal. Other articles will follow.

(By H. C. Brokaw)

Do you have sympathy for your car? Does the knock, jar or rattle give you a pain and make you want to relieve the suffering which you feel the car must endure? Or is it to you just steel and brass and good a thing without feeling, its protests producing no other feeling within you than annoyance?

The man who once drove a horse, who really cared for a horse, will understand what the bond of sympathy is—that bond which made him notice every limp or misstep, every sign of chafing, or anything which indicated an irritation. He knew that as long as it existed the horse would not give good service.

Some will understand the love of a locomotive engineer for his engine in the old days when each engineer had his own engine. They will remember how he used to work over it and fuss around it, and almost caress it, call it "her," and spoke of it as if it had human attributes. He got good performance out of it, and that is just what will happen if the automobile driver will cultivate this sympathetic relation, this intimacy, even with his car.

Not All Are Alike

There is a great deal of difference among men in respect to their automobiles. One man will have this feeling of sympathy—almost reverence—while the other will not. The car to the automobile is a highly sensitized piece of mechanism. It must have consideration if it is to do its best. The employer of men understands just what this means. If he treats his men like machines they are machines as a rule; but if he treats them like human beings they become machines plus, and the "plus" is what makes them successful.

To the driver who does not think, a missing engine is merely an annoyance and a delay. It never occurs to him that the car is suffering more than he is, particularly when there is a jolt every time the cylinder does fire, which racks every part of the car, and even produces extra wear on the tires. The man who loves his car understands, of course, this loss of power and wear, but, more than that, he feels a sort of pain which is not satisfied until he has stopped, found out what the trouble is and rectified it. Of course, his sense of loss saves him many dollars, but if it were not so he would not be satisfied as long as he thought the car was suffering.

It is hardly necessary to explain all the evils which come from the pound or vibration of a missing cylinder, or from one of the knocks which some engines produce. The man who has ridden in an automobile under these conditions knows just what it will do in the way of vibration and jerking, but not all understand the damage which is done. The fact is that it puts a severe strain upon almost every part of the car, racking the frame, smashing the gear teeth together, straining the clutch, the universals and almost every other working part. The jerking motion has its effect on the tires as well.

There are other things which produce the same result. If the driver is not careful with the clutch, or if the clutch does not work smoothly, a great deal of damage may be done. Where the clutch is harsh, or where the driver is in the habit of letting it in suddenly, the car gives a jump, perhaps slides the tires on the pavement a few inches, and, anyway, shakes up the entire car.

Don't Race the Engine

The same sensation and same evil effect may be produced if the accelerator is used carelessly. Some people are so eager for a quick getaway they slam the foot down on the accelerator pedal and the car fairly springs forward—and then after a while it doesn't spring. The fact is that the entire transmission system becomes so worn and has so much play because of these sudden strains and smashing blows which are delivered that it wears out speedily, even though it does not break. One engine manufacturer thinks so much of his motor that he has a carburetor device which makes it impossible to throw this heavy load upon the engine. It is a high grade car, too.

Much the same effect is produced by jamming on the brakes every time one desires to stop. This is particularly noticeable in city traffic, where stops are frequent, sometimes sudden. The driver, careless of consequences, runs ahead at too high speed, then when he finds it necessary to stop, has to jam on the emergency brake and bring the car to a stop within half the distance that should be allowed. Haven't you heard the cars shriek an agonizing protest? Have a heart!

There are many other things, however, which do not appeal to the senses which are just as important and should have just as much sympathetic attention from the driver as the things enumerated. There is lubrication, for instance. A little neglect here and the car suffers in a way which means new bearings, rebored cylinders, with new pistons and rings in the engine, new gears in the transmission, new universals, or other parts where undue wear comes from lack of proper lubrication. If the oil level is not high enough the oil becomes too thin and there is trouble.

As to the Cooling System

The man who has sympathy for his car understands its needs and really feels bad if he discovers anything wrong in this line. It is partly a duty, it is partly a matter of self-interest, if the fan belt is loose or the fan blades hit something, he is not content until he has remedied the difficulty. It takes but a moment and he has the satisfaction of knowing that things are shipshape with the old boat.

Now, I have no use for the man who looks upon a car with awe or so great a reverence that he is afraid to touch anything for fear it will get out of order—talking about the wonderful

What The Experts Say

If your car stops on a steep hill due to the steep grade, and then starts backward at increasing speed, there is a good chance of engaging the reverse gear if the right method is used, but this chance diminishes as the speed increases.

If the motor is dead the gear must be disengaged and this requires the quickest kind of shift. If the movement can be made quick enough the gear can be engaged.

If the motor is running it should be speeded up momentarily to a greater speed than is called for to engage the reverse and the instant the gear is engaged the engine should be shut off. Since most cars will run ten or more miles in reverse the engagement can usually be made at speeds less than fifteen miles an hour.

Coolness is necessary in such an emergency. It is necessary to make the gear movement quickly and possibly also the throttle and switch must be used in quick succession. At the same time pressure on the brakes must not be removed except for an instant.

Rubber cannot be easily cut with common shears, but by taking a pair of them and grinding one blade to a saw-tooth edge an excellent tool for this purpose will be produced. The saw-teeth grip the rubber and prevent its sliding between the blades as it usually does.

In many of the older car models no means of adjusting the valve clearance is provided. By slipping one or more fibre or metal discs of sufficient thickness to take up the excessive play between the bottom of the valve stem and the push rod this trouble may be obviated. A metal retainer cut from sheet metal will keep the disc in place.

As an emergency repair, until a proper job can be done, a coating of common household kerosene is excellent for stopping a gasoline leak. The soap is pressed on with the tip of the finger after any dirt and grease have been carefully wiped off.

By far the best compound to use in cleaning reflectors is denatured alcohol and water in equal parts. The solution should be applied with a soft cloth which will not scratch the surface.

piece of machinery or standing off in a sort of ecstasy. But a man does need a balance which is akin to love—sympathy which makes him notice every little thing and hasten to correct troubles. Right here it ought to be said that the best guide in all these matters is the book of instructions furnished by the car manufacturer. He has anticipated all these things and tells in the book about every part of the car, how to take care of it and what to do to insure good service. A good rule for the car owner would be not to take any advice contrary to that given in the instruction book.

If you are not thoroughly sympathetic with your car, get out the instruction book, find out what to do, and then do a little courting. Make love to your car, establish a bond of sympathy and your reward will be perfect service.

OVERLOADING SURE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Trucks Eventually Ruined and Roads Constantly Damaged

By Robert O. Patten

For many years the appeal has been made by the makers of motor trucks to load the vehicle to its rated capacity. It is a discouraging fact that in many instances this advice has been ignored with the result that the motor truck industry has been injured. The cure for the evil of overloading does not appear to be immediately in sight, but experience, coupled with expense, is a great teacher, and there are hopeful signs for the future.

Just how has this condition of overloading become common practice and been permitted to grow? The burden in this respect should not be thrown entirely upon the truck owner. In many instances the enthusiastic and more or less ignorant salesman has made extravagant claims of durability and excess capacity, which have not only been carried out in practice by the owner. Then, again, competitive haulage, especially on a tonnage basis, has been an incentive for the owner to overload his truck with the idea that he was receiving an increased revenue for so doing. Whether the owner needed much urging to bring him into the class of overloaders is a question, but the fact remains that there are many cases of this kind, with very little being done to stop it.

Bridges—Trucks Compared. Motor truck owners' attention should be directed to the fact that a motor truck may be compared to a bridge, both structures being built with clear engineering thought of the capacity of load they will safely and economically carry. It is a common sight to see a bridge placard notifying the public that the capacity of the bridge is safe for a certain tonnage. It is a rare thing to see the same caution used with a motor truck, and still both are instruments for carrying weight.

Shortens Life of Truck. It is generally a fact that those who are most prone to seriously overload are also guilty of other evils of truck operation, viz., overspeeding, lack of lubrication and general lack of proper upkeep. It is usually found that the overloader keeps his equipment in mighty poor shape, and is quite consistent in his bad business practice. In fact, the serious overloader is gradually being placed in the undesirable class by truck dealers, because this type of user is too expensive to service.

To overload trucks is merely another way of materially shortening their useful life as well as decreasing their range of activity. An overload increases the stresses in the weight-carrying members and causes excessive breakage of parts. The deteriorating point is so high that it is near the danger point. The successful operator of motor trucks rarely overloads, feeling that the slight advantage in tonnage which he might temporarily gain is more than offset by longer life of his truck, lower maintenance costs and reliability in times of need.

Has Brought Bad Legislation. Were the truck overloader the sufferer only to himself, he might be passed by with a pitying glance. But his practice hurts the industry and the intelligent buyer from using motor trucks. This sinner is the one who is largely responsible for much legislation against motor trucks; he is the one who makes the innocent suffer with the guilty by his overloading. He is the one who makes it difficult for the rubber companies to properly cushion the mechanism and to make a product that will produce satisfactory mileage.

Salesmen should be sure they sell a truck with ample capacity—be on the heavy side rather than the light. Instead of advising the client that the safety factor provided by the engineers should be utilized for additional weight carried, the buyer should be told that this margin of safety has been provided for bad road conditions, emergency instances of

HIGHER LIMITS NOW

The upward trend of verdicts rendered by the courts in accident cases makes it almost necessary to increase the amount of protection of liability insurance covering automobiles. The limit that has been carried in the past was $5,000 to $10,000. Conditions have changed somewhat and it becomes necessary to take advantage of the higher limits. It is therefore suggested that an automobile owner ought to carry $10,000 to $20,000, or a still higher limit if conditions warrant it.

British Ministry of Transport Also Urges Right Hand Drive in Motor Cars For England.

London, Oct. 16.—The American Chamber of Commerce in London reports that the interim report, just issued, of the conclusions arrived at by the committee appointed by the British Ministry of Transport to consider the question of the left-hand drive for motor cars and its bearing on public safety shows there is not sufficient evidence available to justify the prohibition or restriction of the use of such cars in Great Britain.

The committee, however, states that, if practicable, a uniform and simple code of signals for drivers of all vehicles to indicate to other traffic their driving intentions should be laid down, such signals to be given from a stereotyped position on the off side of the vehicle.

As certain other questions have yet to be considered before the inquiry is completed, it is thought that further modifications of the main conclusions may be arrived at, as a large increase in the number of left-hand cars in Britain may constitute a public danger in the present congested state of traffic and may result in the whole question being reopened. The suggestion is made that it would be wise for American manufacturers to build right-hand drive cars for export to Great Britain.

MUST REDUCE WEIGHT

Twenty Miles to Gallon by All Cars Would Save Enough Gasoline For 700,000 Motors Each Year.

New York, Oct. 16.—One of the country's leading manufacturers of automobiles suggests that if all cars were built to average twenty miles to a gallon of gasoline the saving of fuel in one year's time would supply 700,000 additional automobiles.

In the face of the waning gasoline supply, he reasons that the most advisable thing for the manufacturer to do is to reduce the weight of his car, limit its size and bring about a closer adaptation of the power plant to the actual performance requirements of the machine.

SAILORS' WEEK CAMPAIGN FOR MERCHANT SERVICE

Navy League Drive to Commence In City On Monday For Donations

The Navy League programme for assisting Canada to realize the most from her opportunities is to cultivate the public to insist upon the development of our sea heritage; to enlighten them upon the importance of the sea; so that our Canadian products may be shipped through Canadian ports, in Canadian ships, officered and manned by trained Canadians, to encourage and to undertake the training of Canadian lads to man Canada's navy and mercantile marine. To formulate a fundamentally sound policy for the training of our present seafaring population, to meet an emergency, so that Canadian overseas commerce will be protected. To support facilities for making the sailor's life ashore endurable, and to provide for dependents of those who died to protect Canada, nationally, imperially and commercially.

With these objects in view a Dominion-wide campaign will be launched for one week, beginning Monday, for the purpose of raising $750,000. This is the first national campaign ever put on by the Navy League, previous ones have been confined to provinces. Canada's endowment of a concentrated action to place the merchant service of this country in an unassailable position will undoubtedly be measured by the support this campaign secures.

Into Two Channels

The work of the Navy League in Canada has been directed mainly in two channels, the building and maintenance of homes for sailors, in which programme is included caring for dependents of those who were killed by submarines during the war, and, secondly, the establishment of naval brigades in different parts of the country. At the present time there are 2,000 Canadian boys enlisted in these naval brigades, which dot the country from coast to coast. When it is possible to do so, instruction given by practical men of many years' service in the navy, is supplemented by a month's practical training in government boats during the summer. Since last May over 100 of these boys have been sent to England to man the new ships of the re-organized Royal Canadian Navy.

Dependents of Seamen

The Navy League has assumed the responsibility of caring for the dependents of Canadian seamen who were killed during the war, and for whom no provision has been made by the Canadian or Imperial Governments. Up to the present $30,250 has been expended in this way and it is expected that no further appeal for funds will be made for this work. With the trust funds now in hand, together with the sum set aside in the budget, which will be raised by public subscription, it should be possible to establish an endowment, the income from which will be sufficient to provide these dependents with a pension equal to that granted to dependents of naval men killed on active service.

Teaching Through Schools

The developments of the sea-conscious spirit—to make Canadians understand what a great sea heritage is theirs—is another important phase of the work. The map of the Dominion shows at a glance the extreme difficulty of spreading a sea-conscious spirit amongst Canadians, but the league has decided that this difficulty must be overcome. As a merchant navy is the first step to sea power in any nation, so is the seed-sowing of fundamental national ideals in the schools, the first step to national greatness. There is no medium for national propaganda comparable to the school child, and the departments of education of nearly all the provinces have, through the endeavors of the Navy League, incorporated naval history as a definite part of their instructions.

Canadian Ships

Foreign trade is essential to national prosperity. If this policy is not pursued, stagnation at home develops. Canada produces a surplus of necessities and with Canadian trade lines established and maintained, various parts of the world, commercial supremacy is bound to ensue. By willingness and ability to provide ships, Canada, this year, has drawn the West Indies closer to herself and the Empire. She can make preferential trade agreements with other peoples under the British flag, without arousing international complications and the trade of 45,000,000 people in West Africa is waiting to be picked up by "made in Canada" merchant service. Canada's overseas trade made giant strides during the war; employment was plentiful, wages were good and farmers were prosperous. To hold what we have and to get more, Canada needs ships and Canadian men to man them.

The last part of the last sentence of the foregoing paragraph may well be termed the slogan of the Navy League in the campaign which opens next week—"Canadian ships and Canadian men to man them." In a single, expressive thought this typifies the drifting power behind the work of the league. The purpose of the campaign is no self-end, it is to promote the welfare of an organization. It is to develop the minds of Canadian citizens, from Halifax to Victoria, a point where they can think of and work for nothing bigger than a Canada with such unlimited sea power that her products together with shipped over the seven seas in Canadian ships, manned by Canadian officers and men.

With this great national spirit of service hovering over its Dominion, the Navy League of Canada, in appealing to citizens of the Dominion for $750,000 to make this dream a reality, feels confident that its faith will be justified—that with the termination of the campaign every one of the nine million residents of this great country can say with the immortal Nelson, "Thank God, I've done my duty."—From an article by F. H. Williams.

Sailors' Week Campaign Has Assurance of Full Support in Victoria

The appeal of the Navy League of Canada for funds for a nation-wide drive is certain of support in Victoria, where the Navy League has long had a foremost place, and where it was popular long before the interior sections of Canada gave it any support. The sum asked here is $5,000, one-fifth of the quota for British Columbia, the total amount asked from Canadians being $750,000.

The Navy League proposes to celebrate Trafalgar Day in the schools here by the presentation of memorial pictures to the Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt Schools, and to the Central schools on that day; and other steps are contemplated to secure publicity in this section of the country. Fifty-five schools in southern Vancouver Island will benefit from publicity.

The most spectacular of the work done here has undoubtedly been the Boys' Naval Brigade, which has secured a large measure of popular support, and which has already given practical results towards the building up of the personnel of a Canadian mercantile marine. The great success of the Provincial Boys' camp at the Gorge this summer drew commendation from all parts of the Province, and will prove of the greatest value to the movement.

By provinces, the call for the Sailors' Week Campaign, is:

Total	$760,000	$125,500	$271,000	$144,000	$179,500	$40,000

The best proof that the Navy League in British Columbia is carrying out successful work, lies, according to the local committee, in the fact that trained boys are continually being sent from this province to help man Canadian merchant vessels.

It is pointed out that the burden of the British Navy upon the people of Britain is $17 a head. The burden of the Canadian Navy upon the Canadian people is 25c a head. Canada can only pay the debt thus incurred, in men. Capt. Douglas Kerr, chief executive officer of the League, declares that Old Country seamen drawn from the British Isles to man Canadian merchantmen, are a loss to the British Navy thus increasing the burden. When Canadian boys are trained by the Navy League for Canadian ships, these British seamen are left free for service in the Imperial Navy and Canada's obligation for naval protection is thereby lessened.

The high efficiency of Maxwell and its growing numbers on the world's highways call attention daily to the engineering thought behind its construction.

The object has been to eliminate useless weight, as such weight adds nothing to car efficiency and provides a handicap in high cost of operation.

Merely to make a light weight car would achieve little, for there have been too many light weight cars that could not stand the shock of wear and tear.

The answer is found by the science of metallurgy.

Special steels have been developed after years of experiment and practice. These steels have great strength.

These steels form the bone and sinew of a Maxwell. They are made to Maxwell's own formulae, and there are no other steels just like them.

These special steels ease the burden of a Maxwell engine and make possible its alertness, its getaway, its small consumption of "gas" and oil, its day-in and day-out consistency.

They are the main cause for Maxwell growth: 5,000 a year, six years ago; 100,000 a year to-day; and over 400,000 in use on the six continents.

Special music has been arranged for the Thanksgiving service of song to-morrow evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. R. G. Morrison will again appear, and with the choir reorganized for the winter season the festival these special features will add greatly to the beauty of the service. The programme is as follows:

Anthem—"What of the Night, O Watchman"..... Matthews Duet—"Love Divine"..... Stainer
Mr. and Mrs. Gupman
Anthem—"Great Is the Lord"..... Sydenham
Solo—"A Song of Thanksgiving"..... Alliston
Anthem—"Creation's Hymn"..... Beethoven
Solo—"How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place"..... Little Mrs. R. G. Morrison

Anniversary Services—Anniversary services will be held at the Centennial Methodist Church on Sunday, Rev. J. L. Batty will preach morning and evening. On Monday following a Thanksgiving service from six to eight o'clock, after which there will be a public meeting and an excellent programme. All old friends are especially welcomed.

Harvest Festival—Harvest festival services will be held at the Church of Our Lord, Humboldt Street, on Sunday. There will be appropriate music and special decorations for the occasion. In the morning the Rev. T. Gladstone will occupy the pulpit and in the evening the rector will preach. Gifts of fruit and flowers for the decorations will be gratefully received at the church on Saturday afternoon and, after the services, will be donated to the "Aged Ladies' Home."

Church's Educational Work
The work of the General Board of the Church in to promote religious education through the agency of the home, the Sunday school, adult bible classes and young people's organizations; also, where possible, in the public and private schools of the country. A lantern slide department, a department of teacher-training, and an editorial department for providing suitable material for the use of children, parents and teachers are also included in the educational work of the church, conducted through the activities of its educational board.

At Christ Church Cathedral
Various plans for the observance of the day are being made in Anglican parishes on Vancouver Island and throughout the diocese. In the Cathedral parish of the diocese, a programme for the week has been issued, as follows:

Sunday, October 17, 8 a.m.—Corporate Communion for Sunday School officers, teachers, parents and confirmed boys and girls. 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.—special sermons by the Dean of Columbia. 2.45 p.m.—Children's service, with address by Rev. G. A. Wells, C.M.G.

Monday, October 18, 10.30 a.m.—Holy Communion, with special intercessions and short address by the Dean. 8 p.m.—Clergy, Churchwardens and Church Committee "At Home" to officers and teachers of the Cathedral Sunday School.

Tuesday, October 19, 8 p.m.—Anglican Young People's Association and Sunday School entertainment. Proceeds towards maintenance of "Church House."

In the morning a special order of service in printed form provided by the Board of Religious Education will be distributed, and the rector, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, will give an appropriate address. At 2.45 p.m. there will be a children's service, which Miss Mary Purdy will sing a solo. In the evening at 7.30 the rector will continue the course of studies in "The Life of Christ," the subject being "The Temptation."

St. Mary's.
A special service has been arranged to take place in St. Mary's Memorial Hall, Yale Street, Oak Bay, at 3 p.m. Members of the Sunday School will meet at 2.45. All parents have been specially invited to attend, and those in charge are looking for a large congregation of parents, friends and past and present members of the Sunday School. The address will be given by the rector, Rev. G. H. Andrews.

CHILDREN'S DAY WILL FALL SUNDAY

Special Appeal Throughout Anglican Churches of Dominion to Be Made

By the authority of the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, the third Sunday in October has been set apart as Children's Day. To-morrow and Monday are therefore appointed to be used for the following purposes: For public prayer on behalf of the home, Sunday School, and other educational agencies of the church; for supplying information concerning the church's educational work; holding special services for children and adults; and providing for the work of the General Board of Religious Education of the Anglican Church, formerly known as the Sunday School Commission.

Children's Day, therefore, is the great educational festival of the church, and each parish and school in the diocese of British Columbia and throughout the Dominion is expected to carry out the above purpose to the best of its ability.

At Christ Church Cathedral
Various plans for the observance of the day are being made in Anglican parishes on Vancouver Island and throughout the diocese. In the Cathedral parish of the diocese, a programme for the week has been issued, as follows:

VALEDICTORY TO-MORROW

B. C. Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, 40 Government Street, for a number of years was chief accountant and secretary of the Victoria Machinery Depot, will sail for China next Thursday, where he will join the China Inland Mission. Mr. Lambert is well known in church circles here, having for a number of years been one of the leading workers in connection with St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West.

At a special valedictory service to be held on Sunday next, the Rev. Charles Thomson, head of the China Inland Mission on the coast, will conduct the address. Mr. Lambert is to speak at the evening service, which will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Maclean. Mr. Thomson has come specially from Idaho to see him off next week.

CATHEDRAL CHANGES HOUR

Commencing to-morrow night and continuing until further notice, the Sunday evening service in Christ Church Cathedral will begin at seven o'clock, instead of at half-past seven. The Dean of Columbia, Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan, will preach at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services to-morrow. At the special Children's Day service to-morrow afternoon, the address will be given by the Rev. G. A. Wells, C.M.G., Rector of Cedar Hill.

Thanksgiving Service—There will be Harvest Thanksgiving services held at the Wilkinson Road Methodist Church on Sunday, when the pastor, the Rev. E. M. Perley will address the congregation. In the morning the subject will be "Is the World Getting Better?" And in the evening the choir will give a special musical service. The subject will be "The Key to the Store House."

Thanksgiving Services at St. Andrew's Special Musical Features

To-morrow at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Thanksgiving services will be held. In the evening a "Service of Praise" will be given, with the following programme:

Keeping Children "Fit" for School

A PROBLEM for every mother—when Dr. Wightman says 68 out of every 100 Vancouver school children are under-nourished! Children, too, who have plenty to eat.

Let Marion Harris Neil show you how to make balanced combinations with Shelly's 4X Bread. Luscious dishes, body-building, brain and nerve feeding. Combinations which will build sturdy boys and bonnie, bright-eyed girls. Foods you will all like and benefit by. Bread—the greatest energising food we have, deliciously combined with meats, fish, vegetables, fruits, nuts, puddings, pastries and croquettes. Substantial, tasty dishes which put vim and "go" in growing frames. Meals which delight and satisfy. Best for body, best for brain. Start your children on these splendid dishes now.

SHELLY'S

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN AND THE HOME

CHILD HONORS "MINE" AND "THINE"

It means something to be a parent. It is not always easy to be a successful one, yet one of the very things upon which success depends is too often slighted or overlooked unconsciously—the point of view.

Little folk have their own ways of thinking, of feeling and of looking at things, and it is little short of foolish to attempt to substitute grown-up methods for them. It is foredoomed to be a failure. On the contrary, show that you realize and respect their opinions on matters and things, and they will have faith in you, and you will have gained their confidence—one great point won.

It is not a bit strange that kiddies find the lessons of life so hard to learn. They do not understand why this is wrong or why that is right, and if the adult who lays down the law is inconsistent or unjust it is only a matter of time before they find it out, and knowing that reasoning is of no avail, that only impatient answers will be given to their questions, to escape punishment they deceive.

Power of Example.

Example is quite as powerful a force in training the child in the way he should go as the rod, for one of the strongest instincts of childhood is to imitate. For instance, what right has a mother to demand that a little one does not touch any article upon her dressing table when the disposes of his playthings without his permission or takes them from their allotted place without his knowledge?

The surest means of teaching the child to respect the rights of others is to let him know that you respect his. Is it quite fair for a mother to hide a certain favorite doll just because she thought that her own daughter had too many "underfoot"? Yet that is exactly what one mother did and then was grieved when the same daughter sprinkled her little friends' clothes with choice perfume pilfered from mother's dresser when mother was out. It is doubtful if the child was really conscious of doing wrong. Mother had taken her doll! She had taken mother's perfume! And was there such a great difference?

Cherished Belongings.

Children fall in love with their possessions, differing in no great degree from the grown-ups in this respect, and it is really cruel to force them to give up any of their cherished belongings unless for some special reason. Yet how often we see this done. For instance, baby brother screams, he wants something—what? It appears that he has centred his desire upon a dainty toy plate. Sister refuses to give it to him, but the fond and foolish mother, thinking to stop the screams insists that "sister brother hold it." Baby throws it on the floor wriggling with glee when it crashes. Then it is sister who screams, and who can blame her? Not the woman who saw the incident, at any rate. And what did it all profit? Nothing; the short-sighted mother did not even avert the "scene," or stop the racket, and she did less by just so much her small child respect for other people's rights, and she laid herself open to many another attack of nerves brought on by baby's screaming for what he wants.

Had the mother asked the little girl to loan the plate to brother, recognizing her ownership, and allowed her to keep it until the first step in establishing beyond the shadow of a doubt the difference between "mine" and "thine."

To Teach Order.

Many a mother rails at the child for being so untidy, yet allows him no place in which to keep his playthings. How inconsistent—the very basis of orderliness is having a place for everything and keeping everything in its place.

Kindness is largely a matter of training. If the child is allowed to torment pets, or what is almost as much to be regretted not even allowed to have any pets, he misses a great deal that is hard to gain in later years. Having a dog, a kitten or a pony inculcates within his breast a desire to protect things and people smaller than himself. Possession entails responsibility and the small boy or girl will fight for his or her pet and care for it devotedly. In human nature there is, when all is done and said, much of the brute, and a love for dumb animals certainly tends to make cruelty less an active element.

It may be that every parent knows—but perhaps some do not—that a few toys of constructive possibilities offer more fun to the child than any number of ready made playthings. Give them blocks, puzzles, paper, crayons, clay, sand and books and watch their joy. For the older boy nothing affords him so much genuine pleasure as a few tools, nails and pieces of wood. He can make something.

HOUSEWIFELY HINTS.

Drawers for children can be easily made from old white or black sheeting. Take two legs, just alike, cut down one side long enough for the seat, sew in a strip three inches wide from the top down to the end of the leg and up to the top again. Join the other leg to the strip in the same way. This will make a pair of drawers with plenty of seat room. Make a long for winter and short, with elastic for summer. Put a band on the top and finish like other drawers. Scratches can be removed from silver by rubbing it with a pad of chamois dipped in olive oil. Ink can be removed from a carpet by washing with sweet milk and sprinkling with corn meal. Leave one day and the color will be the same as ever.

CLEAN JACKET FOR BABY.

If the baby's jacket—or children's sweaters—are washed in the usual way, then put them into a clean pan and set in a warm place to dry. They will be like new. Turn them off and shake a little and they will be soft and fluffy and not pull out of shape, as they would if hung on the line to dry.

NEW SOAP FOR OLD.

When a cake of soap is worn very thin take out a new cake, dampen them both in warm water and "paste" the thin cake flat to the side of the new one. When they dry it is a part of the new cake. Thus have no waste and no small pieces of soap—the using of which is always a problem.

Good Things to Eat

This is the time of all the year when the harvest is the busiest. Now is the housewife offered a large and varied choice of fruit and vegetables, and the more of them she includes in her menu the more delicious are her meals, and the more healthful. All of the suggestions that follow merit a fair trial.

Corn Soup.

Stew a knuckle of veal and strain the broth. Add to it the corn grated from twelve uncooked ears and a teaspoon of farina. Cook it for half an hour and season it with salt and pepper, a little chopped parsley and a hard boiled egg chopped fine. Add a cup of milk and the yolks of two eggs, beaten together, and serve the moment it reaches the boiling point.

Cheese and Potato Puffs.

One cup of mashed potatoes, one-quarter cup of milk, one egg, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cup of grated cheese.

Beat the potatoes and milk together until thoroughly mixed. Add the egg and the salt and beat thoroughly. Finally add the cheese. Bake in muffin tins in a slow oven ten or fifteen minutes.

A similar dish may be made by scooping out the inside of a baked potato and mixing it with cheese as above. Fill the potato skin shell with the mixture, return to oven, and bake until light brown.

Tomato Jelly.

Fish is excellent in a tomato jelly salad, which is very simple to prepare. Simply dissolve one tablespoonful of gelatin, which has been soaked in one-half cupful of cold water in one and one-half cupfuls of boiling tomato juice. Mold in small dishes and serve in the centre of hearts of lettuce surrounded with tuna or any leftover fish and mayonnaise poured over the top.

Lentil and Tomato Patties.

Ingredients—Half a pound of boiled lentils, half a pound of boiled potatoes, half a pound of tomatoes, half a pound of bacon, pepper and salt. Skin the tomatoes by putting them into boiling water for two minutes; when taken out the skins will come off easily. Chop up very finely and put into a basin along with the lentils, potatoes, pepper and salt. Mix all well together. If too moist add about half a teaspoon of bread crumbs. Let the mixture stand aside in order to allow the bread crumbs to swell. Make into patties and cover with bread crumbs. Now fry the bacon, and when cooked lay each slice separately on a hot dish. Fry the patties in the bacon fat to a nice golden brown. Lay each patty on a piece of bacon and serve with mashed potatoes.

Sweetbreads and Peas.

Take three pairs of sweetbreads and cut each one into four slices, season with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Fry in porcelain lined frying pan in butter for five or six minutes on each side. Remove and put on hot platter around the edge and cover with the following sauce: Mix together a scant ounce of butter, a half teaspoon of finely chopped parsley, half a teaspoon of lemon juice, good pinch of salt and dash of white pepper. Mix together with a fork and spread over the sweetbreads. In the centre of the platter arrange a can of French peas which have been heated with butter.

Simplicity Wins Distinction for One-Frock Ornamentation for Another

Left—Over a foundation of satin falls a shimmering robe in shades of the orange. Right—Wonderfully effective in velvet when it is cleverly draped and festooned with rare lace.

While the nights were heated formal dress was not a matter of such paramount importance, as it is slowly but surely becoming with the advent of autumn and the consequent festive season. Now there is nothing more important in all the realms sartorial, never has there been a longer gamut of types for the seeker after individuality to run.

There is coming to be less and less excuse for mildly not stressing here good points and keeping in the background those that are not perhaps all that they might be. First of all, heavy, scarcely a color or a cut or a combination possible that is not known to and taken advantage of by the alert designer. And when variety is the very keynote of the styles, it is only the personally careless or stupid woman who does not make her selection, make no mark, her characteristic charm.

Distinction, like greatness, is more often achieved than inherited, and it is interesting to notice how the same end is reached by so many diverse means. For instance, simplicity may be responsible for making the gown a thing quite apart from its contemporaries and conversely it may be that ornamentation accomplishes the feat—that when one comes to think about it is not as easy as it sounds in this day of competition.

Opinions differ so greatly as to what really makes a frock distinctive, there is almost as great diversity of opinion about this as about skirt length of the future, for "what is meat to one is poison to another," and for every person who favors the short length there is another advocate of the long. And so it goes with fashions and shades and the twists and turns of the fashion world.

When mildly sallies abroad to choose she may have pretty definite ideas upon what she wants and why she wants it, but if she looks at more than one or two her judgment is almost sure to waver, for certainly it seems as if each gown is lovelier than the one that precedes it. Black velvet is wonderfully smart and when it is cleverly draped and its beauty allowed to remain unadorned save for perhaps a touch of lace or a bit of jet it fashions a gown quite as near perfection as it is possible for a gown to get.

The ancient cuirass is being adapted to modern needs, and one striking affair seen not long ago was thickly embroidered in long lines of jet beads spread like ribs of a fan and so giving a long slender effect that was most becoming to its fair wearer. The sides were open, allowing to escape frothy ruffles of black tulle that hung to the floor at the side of the gown. Bonade is another material that finds a field in frocks for evening wear and it frequently is so proud of itself that it never knows but to add a long slender effect that was most becoming to its fair wearer. Bonade is another material that finds a field in frocks for evening wear and it frequently is so proud of itself that it never knows but to add a long slender effect that was most becoming to its fair wearer.

THE CHARM OF APPLIED FRUITS

The vogue for appliqued fruits as trimming continues more popular than ever, for they are applied to everything from Milady's morning frocks to kiddies' wearables and room decoration.

The secret of making the fruit look both pretty and natural is to use the material of the same color that the fruit naturally is. Thus pears, when cleverly used in this applique or "glorified patchwork" are made of yellow or tan cloth to resemble the real fruit as much as possible. Japanese crepe, both because of its attractive colorings and its hard finished weave, nice to sew, is one of the favorite materials for using this applique trimming. Simple white smocks and slip and skirt overs, as well as hats for the kiddies, are given quite a transforming note of color when colored fruits are sewed flat to such places as the corners of collars, pockets, the left front shoulder and hat crowns and brims. Many times the crepe is buttonholed, stitched on with contrasting floss, black being very popular. But never is the idea of sewing it on (with all edges turned under) with blind stitches, so that the fruit looks just as if it grew there!

With apples and pears, a thread of two or three black or green is usually caught in to give the effect of the only that appears on real fruit. Grapes to be realistic should be made of green or purple material. Of course all leaves to be natural should be green unless a group of Autumn leaves in the rich brown, yellow and red colorings is the effect desired. This would be very attractive on an autumn silk evening dress of dark brown crepe de chine or velvet.

Oranges are easy to make and are very effective on anything brown as well as green and lavender tones. They are rich and colorful looking, indeed, for the strings and curtains in a sombre brown living room or library. Sometimes an assortment of fruit is applied resting in a simple basket. The latter may be appliqued on also in cloth of merely outlined with embroidery floss.

For a pretty color effect probably a combination of fruits in different colors is most charming. Cherries are exceedingly decorative and may be combined with green apples. Leaves add much also to any motif. Quite a large design is used for the front of the blouse with smaller ones composed of a single fruit with leaves and used on collars, cuffs, and so forth.

For the winter season silk fruits, appliqued on either cloth or velvet can be quite stunning. Black velvet on white broadcloth makes striking effects. A little group of acorns in shades of brown satin is a suggestion for the duvety hat of tan tones.

And many a sash end for the young girl's frock of dark serge can be greatly enlivened with the gay touch that a fruit motif applied on can give!

THE DESPISED PRUNE.

The prune as ordinarily cooked richly deserves the scorn and neglect which are its portion. As one of the few things which have not advanced much in price, it is well worth consideration. It is avoided by many who would be benefited in pocket and health by its use.

Steaming or boiling the prune gives a shriveled, unattractive appearance and brings out the acid or bitter taste from the skin which no amount of sugar can overcome. First wash the prunes in several waters then soak them for at least twelve hours; remove and set aside; then add two or three teaspoonfuls of sugar to the liquid (which will be about one and a half cupful to half a pound) and boil for five minutes. While hot, pour over the prunes; they will be plump and tender and taste very much like fresh plums. If one has a sweet tooth, more sugar may be added when eaten. They are delicious with cereal. A more nourishing and economical dish would be hard to find.

BABY'S BEDTIME.

A regular hour for naps and bedtime should be the rule for babies. Six o'clock, or at latest, seven, should be the call for sleep until 1½ years old.

Be very sure baby is well hunger and thirst satisfied, then settle him comfortably in bed promptly at six o'clock. Leave no loose ends of blankets to be pulled over the face. Darken the room and leave him to absolute quiet. Should he cry so hard as to injure himself, soothe him, but under no consideration take him from the room to join the rest of the family.

PUNISHMENT.

Here is a punishment for young children who disobey their parents: Make the child sit on a chair about ten minutes where he can watch a clock from the chair until the clock reaches such a number, and if he moves from the chair you will double the time, showing where that would be on the clock. The child thinks this is great punishment, as the clock hand travels so slowly to the young mind that watches it closely. The child soon learns to tell time if punished in this way very often.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMIES.

To soften paint brushes that have become dry and hard, heat as much vinegar as required to a boiling point. Immerse the brushes and allow to simmer for twenty minutes, then wash in strong soapuds.

Sew two thicknesses together a hole the edges and across from corner to corner and you have bath or dust cloths. Single pieces hemmed make acceptable under-the-pillow handkerchiefs as well as dust cloths. To preserve the heels of rubbers cut from the top of an old pair, pieces to fit inside the heels of a new pair, mullage the rough side of the pieces and press them in the heels of the new pair. This will prolong the use of the new pair till the soles give way.

Don't throw away men's shirts if they are worn out around the neckband, for you can make good sport shirts from them by cutting the sleeves below the elbow and taking what you cut off for the lining of the collar and any kind of suitable cloth for the right side of the collar.

TIMELY TIPS.

Northern exposure is best for a kitchen. Beefstea is not food, but a stimulant. Dry fine blankets on curtain stretchers.

Roll pretty away from you, and then lift it. Teach children to eat whatever is given them.

Many dainty desserts are made with stale cake. Corned beef should be started to boil in cold water.

A long handled dustpan is a household treasure. Use it to sweep him. The flavorings in cakes should harmonize in taste.

If the fern drops its fronds, it is probably rootbound. Keep a solid linen from bathroom in a closed hamper.

A four pound fish should make six or seven portions. Each kiddie should have his own laundry bag and use it.

Fry noodles in peanut oil and drain on blotting paper.

Girl students are ordered to fasten up their collars, with pins during school hours at the Magdalen College, Lincolnshire, England. V-shaped blouses and bobbed hair are banned.

The Base of Many Troubles

Inactive Kidneys and Suffering are Inseparable

THE kidneys are one of the prime causes of good or bad health. With active kidneys, the body keeps in good condition, but once these organs fail to perform their work properly you begin to be gradually sapped of your vitality.

Nothing will "drag you down" quicker than the backaches, the headaches, rheumatism, and other pains resulting from neglected and congested kidneys. Debility of the whole system is caused when the kidneys cease to perform their functions properly.

Yet, these many ills can be avoided or remedied by taking—

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS

Gin Pills have a wonderfully soothing effect on the kidneys. They quickly heal any inflammation, and enable the delicate organs to resume their work of filtering the waste and poisons from the blood. That is the reason the people of Canada bought 613,644 boxes of Gin Pills in 1919.

If you would have improved health and relief from your kidney troubles, try Gin Pills without delay.

Gin Pills are sold everywhere at 60c a box—with money-back guarantee, if they do not help you. You can obtain a sample by writing to:—

National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited Toronto, Ont.

Gin Pills sold in the United States are the same as Gin Pills sold in Canada.

CARING FOR BABY.

Not only while giving him his bath but at all times should be very careful in handling the baby. The palm of the hand should always support his little back while he is in a sitting posture.

The easiest way to handle him after taking him out of the tub is to put him on a table with at least one heavy chair towel on it. The baby should have at least one full bath a day. This is necessary to his health and comfort. Never bathe within one hour after feeding; it is better to bathe first and feed him afterward.

He should be dressed as lightly as possible on warm days and kept in the fresh air.

Never let him sleep in the same bed with any other person. If there is no crib the mother should put a couple of chairs at the bedside, with any kind of soft coverings on them, and let the baby sleep there. The backs of the chairs will keep the baby from falling and the mother can reach over to care for him when necessary.

SHOE ADVICE.

Do not wear a shoe continuously. If you do it will not last so long as if worn on alternate days. From the point of view of economy, it pays to have two pairs of shoes and to wear them alternately.

Continuous wear of a shoe takes the life out of its leather. The heat of the foot also causes perspiration, which, if it does not have time to dry, rots the lining. When the lining is gone the perspiration comes in contact with the leather and begins to affect his in the same way it did the lining.

A shoe that is worn all day and through the evening cannot be properly dried out and be ready for wear the next morning. Therefore there should be another pair of shoes to put on, so that this pair that has been worn can be thoroughly dried before they are worn again.

LEMON MILK SHERBET.

Mix three-quarters of a cupful of sugar with the strained juice of two lemons, and gradually beat in a pint of rich milk that has been thickened with a heaping teaspoonful of cornstarch mixed to a paste with cold milk. Cool, add the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs and freeze slowly. When the mixture begins to congeal, stir in a quarter of a cupful each of chopped, blanched pistachio nuts and Maraschino cherries. Continue to freeze until firm and smooth.

GINGER LEMON CUP.

For an individual rule, place in a tall glass three tablespoonfuls of freshly brewed tea, the juice of half a lemon, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and three sprigs of fresh mint.

Crush the mint, mix well, add half a cupful of finely cracked ice and fill up the glass with chilled ginger ale. Insert a thin slice of lemon in the rim of the glass, add a slice of orange and top with a tiny bouquet of fresh mint.

FASHION HINTS.

Sleeves are to be longer. Waistcoats are in vogue. Jet is still a popular trimming. Very smart is the dangling tassel. Large hats are of black Chantilly lace.

Spring furs are a very important item. Period frocks and high combs are returning. Sport clothes are brighter colored than ever.

The low waist line is the most fashionable. Lace is used for both day and evening wear.

Horsehair hats in king's blue are great favorites. Shaded organdie flowers serve as fastenings on formal afternoon frocks.

A jade-colored linen hat, piped with white, is almost diamond shaped.

Stiff satins, heavy faille and metallic brocades are favored for gowns. The petal shaped overskirt is used on many fall models.

Many three-quarter sleeves in flowing effect are seen.

HOUSEHOLD ADVICE.

Bananas baked until the skins are brown are delicious. The pan should be greased and the bananas salted.

Never spoil good vegetables by seasoning them with bad butter or a substitute. No fat at all is better.

Crumbs, sugar, cinnamon and butter, the result being a novel Brown Betty.

Growing Children Thrive on Baker's Cocoa

Healthy children do everything strenuously; they play hard, and study hard, and they need nourishment and a lot of it, and not one of the popular beverages meets their requirements so well as good and well made cocoa.

Pure and delicious.

PRIZE ESSAY FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

The Directors of the above Association, wishing to encourage the principles of co-operation amongst the citizens of Victoria, announce that they will be glad to receive essays on "What is Co-operation and What Are Its Aims and Objects from school children of Victoria and suburbs up to the age of 14 years."

All children between these ages are invited to write an essay on the above subject not exceeding 250 words.

Each entry to state name of child, address, age, and school attended, and to be signed by the teacher of their class, that the essay is their own composition.

Children may have access to any publications or literature on Co-operation or obtain any inspiration on the subject from their parents or other persons, but the composition shall be entirely their own.

Prizes of $10.00 will be given to the one considered the best and $5.00 and $2.00 for the next two in merit.

The merit of each essay will be judged on the best definition to the query, composition, handwriting and age of child.

The Directors announce that they will obtain the name of some well known person to judge the answers, whose name will be given later.

Essays to be handed in to the store on or before 5 p.m., Saturday, 4th day of November, 1920, marked "Essay on Co-operation"; envelope enclosing same to be plain without any other writing on whatsoever and sealed. Any violation of this will render the entry liable for cancellation.

Children may enter the store and obtain any information desired to assist them.

Also the Directors will pay to any child, irrespective of age, one dollar for each new member they bring in. New children get busy. See that your parents and friends are members of the Association, and pile up the dollars for Christmas.

JOHN SMITH, Manager.

Prize winners will be announced in Saturday's Times, November 27th, 1920, and Sunday Colonist, November 28th, 1920.

Fire in Fairfield Block—A small blaze in the basement of the Fairfield Block gave the Fire Department a little work last night. The cause was due to the overheating of a chimney pipe from a stove used to heat bath water for the building, this igniting some wooden sawdust being used by the contractors for concrete alterations to the building.

News of Markets and Finance

LOWER CLOSE FOR NEW YORK STOCKS

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

New York, Oct. 16.—Market prices averaged lower to-day, chiefly as a result of some weak and realizing that was indulged in by some of the more timid long Canadian shares. It being the belief in some quarters that the dividend on the common will be reduced at the next meeting. The coal strike in England also contributed a considerable amount of selling, but it is believed that domestic share prices will play more of a prominent part in determining price fluctuations in the security market. The action of the local money yesterday strongly indicates rates will be more easy procurable and remain so for a while. A substantial class of buyers seems to have appeared in the better class of rails, oils and equipments at favorable opportunities. We are of the belief that the market advances in the stock market will be witnessed.

INDIVIDUAL EFFORT TO SUPPORT ART ORGANIZATIONS

An Unknown Donor Becomes Revealed to All; Once Immigrant to America

(By George J. Dyke). Practical experience and constant observation have thoroughly convinced us that the arts in all their beneficence and influence should be brought into the daily lives of the people. More and more the schoolmaster and the preacher are recognizing how potent an educational factor, and how effective a moral agency to all mankind is the practice of the arts. In all human beings there is the desire to get away from the dullness and the drudgery of their everyday existence. There comes to us the yearning for the momentary relief and change from the monotony of things. To offset all these much can be done by art, and particularly the art of music, which gives more satisfaction to this desire, inasmuch as it leads the better and stronger instinct underlying it into fruitful instead of harmful and destructive expression. Art may well be looked upon as an efficacious antidote against Bolshevism and similar pernicious heresies. The governments of the oldest world's continents—Europe—have long since recognized the aspects of public welfare and the educational value inherent in all art undertakings. And every man and woman in the community should realize that their investment in the progress of their city is when they participate according to their spirit and individual efforts in support of art organizations, thus yielding interest to each one and greatly benefiting the civic and business affairs of their adoption. In conclusion I cannot refrain from repeating what I wrote last week, viz.: Cities are healthier and the public taxes lower where there is an abundant provision made for the arts in the community.

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P. O. Box 123, Parrsboro, N. S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance."

"I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back."

"In 1916, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop rheumatism, and took on box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since."

"Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

What One Individual Can Accomplish

The mysterious anonymous giver of nearly a quarter of a million dollars during the "war years" to the Philadelphia symphony orchestra, now known as the "Philadelphia Orchestra," has at last been identified.

His name is Edward William Bok, journalist, editor, publicist, whose generosity has been disclosed also in other philanthropic—of a similar nature. The secret came out through receipt in the Quaker City of some advance proofs of the autobiography of Edward Bok now in preparation by Charles Scribner's Sons, publishers.

Mr. Bok came to America fifty years ago as an immigrant from the Netherlands. Whilst having no special knowledge or aptitude for music he became interested especially through his wife, in the development of the Philadelphia orchestra, now grown into a great community organization, rich in inspiration and fertile in public culture. Mr. Bok in his autobiography says in part that the public supporter given to the orchestra was greatly interested in him. He was at first surprised to learn that every symphony orchestra has an annual deficit, which he attributed to faulty management, but in investigating the whole question he found that a symphony orchestra could not possibly operate at a profit, fit, or on a self-sustaining basis, because of the change of programmes, the incessant rehearsals required, and the limited number of times it could actually play within a contracted season.

The keynote of Mr. Bok's idea was a big community organization, and that the public should share in the maintenance of the same. It should become popular too. But initiation and background were needed, and these he set himself to supply. He at once provided a fund and volunteered the services of the annual deficits of the orchestra which ran from $50,000 to $60,000 a year, with the aim of getting together a permanent endowment fund. This fund was to be half-a-million dollars to be supplied in five years by the orchestra's friends. With such a goal in sight and with the aid of the orchestra's friends, Mr. Bok set to work. He secured several branches of the women's committee everybody got busy, and before the five year period had expired over $500,000 were collected. In 1919 another million dollars were asked for as an addition to the endowment fund, and what happened? A city wide campaign was organized with the result that the amount was oversubscribed. 14,000 persons enrolled themselves in the community organization, and from a privately owned institution the Philadelphia Orchestra now became a public affair, and is in fact as well as in name "our orchestra."

Mr. Bok was editor of "The Ladies' Home Journal" for over thirty years. He retired at the beginning of the present year. Everybody in Philadelphia knows the name of Bok, and even in the remotest corners the people in the Quaker city will still be talking of this man's splendid beneficence and his altruism towards the city of his adoption.

Choir Member at 87. Richard Stapelle is still a member of the All Saint's Church Choir, Toronto. He is eighty-seven, and was born in London, England. He was a close friend of Charles Dickens and is probably the oldest chorister in the world.

The republican candidate as President of the United States, Warren G. Harding, was in his younger days not only a member of the "Silver Gernot Band" in his home-town (Marion, Ohio); but also "ran" a small town paper, in which he once wrote a criticism of a local production of "H.M.S. Pinafore," given by a talented company of local amateurs.

This was twenty years ago. The candidate then wrote: "It was 'some event' that performance, the inspiring and sparkling strains of the beautiful chorus in 'Pinafore' will awaken the echoes of this old landmark (Marion) as probably no other music has ever done."

An Unlikely Volume. My attention has been attracted by an interesting looking album, a credit to its publishers (Boston Music Co.), in which is contained a fine set of three piano pieces by the young talented Englishman, Norman Peterkin, who has already given us some beautiful songs. In a parenthetical we read "Malay Dancing and Singing Feast." Here is Orientalism for those who like it! The title of the volume is "Betel-Jade-Ivory."

I notice something also for those who like Scotch music. Singers should make their acquaintance. The group consists of "Six Songs from Burns," by Richard P. Hammond.

A Loyal Bandmaster. J. Ord Hume is the name of the well-known bandmaster of the Victoria Works band at Erith, Kent, England. Among the Erith councilors are a number of labor extremists, who are in a majority on the Council. These Labor Councilors requested more than once that Ord Hume substitute "The Red Flag" in place of the National Anthem, but the bandmaster refused the request. He still retains his position.

Founder of the Guild of Organists. There has passed out C. Winham Smith, born in London, England, sixty-nine years ago, one of the best known organists in America. Mr. Smith wrote some splendid church music, and his, "The Crusader," a concert overture, is especially well-known. He was a founder of the Guild of Organists.

Chopin and Poland. A brother scribe writing simultaneously with myself (only in another paper), an article on Chopin, the divine poet pianist, says the following which is well worth our attention:—

"All that the funeral train of an entire nation weeping its own ruin and death can be imagined to feel of desolating woe, of majestic sorrow, waits in the musical ringing of this passing bell, mourning in the tolling of this solemn knell, as it accompanies the mighty escort on its way to the still city of the dead."

"We feel it is not the death of a single warrior we mourn, while other heroes live to avenge him, but that a whole generation of warriors has forever fallen, leaving the death song to be chanted by wailing women, weeping children and helpless priests."

"With such exalted phrases does Liszt limn the vision raised before his eyes by the Funeral March of Chopin. To-day, as one lets his thoughts run upon that martyred nation and its bitter history, one wonders: What would contemporary happenings have meant to the patriot-mingrel of Warsaw; how would he have reacted to the miracle that has been wrought? A century ago, when Chopin lived, Poland was in chains. Now those chains have been snapped, please God, forever. His country's travail was a thorn in the heart of Chopin. Out of his agony, out of the ever-swelling current of bitterness, the Poet distilled music now drenched with sorrow, now seething with the spirit of revolt.

Chopin was a propagandist; his music pleads for Poland. The best that the world patriotism can muster ran in his blood and was communicated to his music. Did he foresee that less than a single century would witness the emancipation of his shackled country? Perhaps, although the greater part of his music inspired by patriotic emotion betrays the pessimist enthroned. But if Chopin lived to-day he would sing another song. The spectacle of sovereign Poland, the ancient flag fluttering once more, would stir him beyond measures. The result might be new masterpieces; strong music of rejoicing. Yet not everyone would willingly exchange the Poland in C Minor, F Sharp Minor, E Flat Minor, for works, however magnificent, in the major mode. Perchance the world was better served that Chopin was born at the beginning instead of at the end of the nineteenth century.
